Welcoming them at a luncheon Saturday noon at Oshkosh are Eller Zarnott, Oshkosh, and Mrs. Ted Jackson, Oshkosh, general chairman of the dinner.

Humphrey Cites Record; Raps Nixon Vice President Has Devised Split Personality, Senator Says

Oshkosh — Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Hubert Humphrey cited his own record and blasted Vice President Richard Nixon in a rapid fire speech here Saturday. "We are looking at Nixon's record today," Humphrey told 75 Democrats at a noon luncheon. He spoke before the diners finished eating.

Humphrey arrived 15 minutes late in a caravan that left Milwaukee at 8 a. m. and made a stop in Fond du Lac.

With the senator were Minnesota Secretary of State Joe Donovan, two of Humphrey's sons, Bobby and Douglas, and a guitarist. Everybody sang happy birthday to Bobby who was celebrating his sixteenth birthday.

Expresses Affection

Mrs. Ted Jackson, wife of the chairman of the Winnebago county Humphrey for President committee, introduced the senator. Either he or Kennedy would be a better presidential candidate than Nixon, Humphrey said. He also expressed affection for the latest announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Stuart Symington.

Humphrey believes the Wisconsin primary is important psychologically. "When the primary is over the Republic

Court Upholds Conviction of Russian Agent

Washington — The supreme court today upheld the espionage conviction of Russian Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, highest ranking Soviet spy ever caught in this country.

Abel was convicted in federal court in Brooklyn in 1957 for conspiring to steal United States military secrets and send them to the Kremlin. His sentence was $3,000 fine and 30 years' imprisonment which he is serving.

Justice Frankfurter delivered the 5-4 decision. The decision was reached after the justices heard arguments for the second time.

Justice Brennan wrote a dissenting opinion in which Chief Justice Warren, Justices Black and Douglas joined.

Fronzizi Foes Grab Lead in Argentine Vote

President's Party Runs Poor Third But Holds Majority

Buenos Aires — President Arturo Fronzizi's forces ran a poor third in returns today from Argentina's mid-term congressional elections.

Initial tabulations indicated Fronzizi's intransigent radical party would still have a 16-seat majority in the house of deputies, the lower chamber of congress. But there was a strong hint that the huge popular vote cast against the government would force it to ease its belt-tightening policies.

Popular Vote

With nearly half the vote counted, the opposition people's radical party led in the popular vote with a total of 1,663,326. Close behind came a total of 1,623,748 blank votes, attributed to Peronists and communists whose parties are outlawed. Fronzizi's intransigents were third with 1,377,040.

"But with a head start of 75 incumbent intransigents seeking reelection and 58 intransigent deputies not required to face the voters, it appeared that Fronzizi's forces would have a total of 104 of the new chamber's 192 seats, the people's radicals would have 84 and the conservatives 4.

Economics Policies

Widespread resentment against the Fronzizi government's economic policies appears connected with the fact that despite the austerity program the cost of living has spiraled upward. The blank ballot tactic, used by Peronists in the past, apparently attracted many disaffected workers who remember that times were better under the dictatorship of Juan D. Peron.

Only minor incidents were reported during the voting yesterday, but two powerful bombs exploded early today in power plants a few blocks from Fronzizi's residence in the Olivos suburb.

One of the bombs knocked out power over a wide area and damaged a house next door to the plant, but no one was injured.

Man Killed in Fall Off Bridge

Horicon — Kenneth Karas, 37, was injured fatally today when he leaped over a bridge railing, lost his grip and fell head first to the ice of the Rock river 25 feet below.

Karas, who suffered a broken neck, also plunged through the ice. The body was recovered by firemen.

Karas and a companion were walking to work when they spotted a school of fish swimming below the ice and paused to watch them.

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson indicated today he would favor a transfer of all relief service administrative functions to the state as a method of easing local property taxes.

Such a proposal was outlined two weeks ago to a citizens' tax revision committee studying methods of revamping the state's tax sharing formulas.

Nelson told a news conference the change would lift about $22 million from the shoulders of local units of government now administering relief and related aids.

Ike and Macmillan Fly to Camp David For Test Ban Talks

British Leader Has Conference With Sec. Herter Before Leaving

Washington — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan took off by helicopter from the White House lawn today for their nuclear test ban talks in the seclusion of Camp David in nearby Maryland.

A marine corps helicopter carrying the two chiefs of government roared into warm, sunny skies for the flight of about 40 minutes to the Catocin mountain retreat.

Two army and marine corps helicopters preceded it, carrying British and American officials, security officers, and staff members. Two more military copters followed.

White House police tried to fend off swarming photographers as Macmillan and Eisenhower left the president's office and walked across newly-cut grass to the waiting aircraft. But the cameramen had their way as usual.

They swarmed around the pair all the way to the plane and then crowded right up to the door, flashing bulbs and clicking shutters as the president and prime minister, and others accompanying them, seated themselves.

Macmillan conferred for about 24 hours with Sec. of State Christian A. Herter and other top U. S. officials before going to the White House.

Afterward, asked about the prospects ahead, the British prime minister replied: "They're always good."

Number of Subjects

He said that during the morning "we had some technical exposition." Macmillan did not explain further.

Herter said the morning meeting went off "all right." He said it "covered a number of subjects."

Herter and Vice President Richard M. Nixon plan to fly to Camp David tomorrow with other officials to join in the discussions.

In Eisenhower's helicopter, along with Macmillan, were British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia; White House Press Secretary James S. Hagerty; Leslie Glass, information minister at the British embassy; James Rowley, chief of the White House sec-

Dr. George W. Calver, physician to congress, pronounced Mack dead a few minutes after he collapsed on the floor of the house.

Edinburgh, Scotland — The plastic valve in Norman Allen's heart played havoc with his love life.

When he danced with a pretty girl, his ticks could be heard across the room.

Keeps Time

"If I'm excited, it gets very loud and fast," explained the 27-year-old clerk whose friends call him "Norman the ticker."

"Sometimes," he said, "it seems to keep time to tunes on the radio, especially the cha-cha."

Allen got the plastic valve in an operation to correct a heart ailment four years ago. Without it, he probably would have died.

"This constant tick-tock is embarrassing, though, especially when you're out with a girl."

But three months ago Allen met a girl who understands the message of his tick-tock heart.

Now he's going to ask his doctor if it's all right for him to get married.

Doctors have told Allen they could replace his plastic valve with a silent American type. He turned them down.

"Without this ticker, I'd just be a nobody again," he said.

Goldfine, Aide Plead Innocent To Tax Charges

Released on Bond For Trial Later In Boston Court

Boston — Bernard Goldfine and his blond secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, pleaded innocent today to charges they evaded federal income taxes.

They were released on bail of $5,000 for Goldfine and $1,000 for Miss Paperman for trial later. They already are free under bail in contempt cases in connection with alleged withholding of tax information.

Adams Case

The 69-year-old industrialist, whose gift-giving speeded the resignation of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams in 1958, pleaded innocent individually to a personal income tax evasion of $450,961.

Then he and Miss Paperman together pleaded innocent to evasion of taxes of some $300,000 on one of Goldfine's textile mill properties.

Miss Paperman then pleaded innocent to a charge that she evaded personal income taxes, herself of $25,589.

Both Goldfine and Miss Paperman, standing quietly in the front row of the spectators' section of the federal courtroom, made their pleas of "not guilty" in clear voices, as the clerk, Frank Ahern, read the indictments.

Both appeared serious, but calm.

Their counsel, Edward D. Hassan and Burton L. Williams asked Judge George C. Sweeney for a substantial time — 45 to 60 days — for filing motions.

Amman, Jordan — A plot to kill Jordan's prime minister, Hazzza El Majali, and an uncle of King Hussein, Nasser Ben Jamil, has been uncovered by security authorities here, a government spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said a number of people entering Jordan from the United Arab Republic via Lebanon had been arrested. Those arrested, he added, carried passports from an Arab state which he would not identify.

Ashland — Fire which swept the second floor of a home Saturday night took the life of a 4-month-old boy.

Gary Lee Fountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fountain, suffocated in the blaze which started after he had been put to bed.

The parents and five other children, ranging in age from about 2 to 14, escaped.

Provides for Permanent Surveillance of Military Budgets, Rocket Firings

Geneva — The western powers today introduced a detailed plan for a vast organization to control every step of a world disarmament treaty.

Italian Delegate Francesco Cavaletti introduced the plan at the 10-nation disarmament conference on behalf of the five western powers.

Cavaletti said the proposed international disarmament organization (IDO) must have far wider functions than a mere check on agreed arms cuts.

His plan called for permanent surveillance of national military budgets and military maneuvers, as well as control of all satellite and missile launchings.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin made no comment on the proposals. Instead, he again demanded that the conference begin by agreeing on "general and complete disarmament" and deal with control provisions later.

Western officials said today's session of the conference thus produced no progress, but the relaxed atmosphere of the first two weeks of the conference was maintained.

Cavaletti defined the functions of the International Disarmament organization in 10 basic points. He said IDO should:

1. Receive advance notice on launching of any satellite and detailed reports on the

Storm Past Police As Khrushchev Leaves School Yard

Marseille, France — An enthusiastic crowd broke through police lines today and nearly overran Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Leaving the enclosed yard of a children's school he had visited, he mistook which car door to enter, and the crowd evidently thought he was coming over to get acquainted.

The wave of men and women stormed through the police line, shouting and waving red flags. Khrushchev was surrounded.

Cordon of Police

The expression on the premier's face indicated he did not find the experience completely agreeable. He stood in the crush until police rescued him and didn't try to shake a single hand.

A cordon of police on foot and with motorcycles quickly pushed in and formed around Khrushchev, then escorted him to his car.

Earlier in his tour of the French provinces Khrushchev showed signs that he thought he was seeing too much of French industry and not enough of the French people.

The gregarious Soviet premier has remained good natured but at times showed impatience at the tightly packed schedule of official receptions, dinners and guided tours of historic sights and industrial plants.

Polite Compliments

Visits to factories and agricultural installations leave him unimpressed. He mixes polite compliments for French achievements with statistics on similar Soviet activities that clearly show Khrushchev thinks they do it bigger and better in Russia.

The urge to mix with the people came over him yesterday at Pau. Breaking away from the official itinerary, he made a spur-of-the-moment excursion into the streets. At his smiling best, he shook hands with persons clustered on the sidewalk outside the prefecture, where he had spent the night.

Ten Cardinals Created Including Three Whose Names Remain Secret

Vatican City — Pope John XXIII today created 10 new cardinals embracing four major races of mankind and including three whose names remain secret.

With the elevation of the first Negro cardinal, the pontiff reflected with sorrow on recent bloodshed in Africa. He referred to the "cruel treatments that violate religion and Christian civilization."

Secret Consistory

Gathered in secret consistory with 37 cardinals, the pope formally elevated seven previously named new princes of the Roman Catholic church, including the first Japanese and the first Filipino, as well as the first Negro.

Then, in a surprise action, the supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church announced he had created three more cardinals "in pectore," in his breast or heart, and for the time being would keep their names secret.

No cardinal had been named in this manner since 1933. Vatican sources speculated that the cardinals held "in pectore" by the pontiff might be prelates in communist-dominated lands, where announcement of their names might imperil their lives.

The pope's action, in effect, raises the total in the College of Cardinals to 88, highest in history.

Those who publicly joined the ranks of the princes of the Roman Catholic church today are:

Archbishop Peter Tatsuo Doi, 67, of Tokyo; the first prince of the church from Japan; Archbishop Rufino J. Santos, 51, of Manila, the first cardinal from the brown race. Bishop Laurian Rugambwa, 47, of Rutabo, Tanganyika, the first Negro cardinal.

Vatican Curia

Archbishop Bernard Jan Alfrink, 59, of Utrecht, Holland. Archbishop Joseph LeFebvre, 67, of Bourges, France.

The Most Rev. Luigi Traglia, 64, an Italian of the Vatican curia.

The Most Rev. Antonio Bacci, 64, an Italian of the Vatican curia and the Vatican's Latin expert.

Noting that the church now had its first Negro, first Japanese and first Filipino cardinals, the pope said:

"All are equally created to the glory of the Lord that sanctifies the peoples without discrimination of language, descent or color."

Demonstrators Burn Crosses in South

Ninth Week of Disturbances Begin; Hooded Klansmen Say They are Ready for Business

By The Associated Press
The ninth week of anti-segregation demonstrations began in the south today following a weekend wave of cross burnings.
Hooded klansmen burned crosses in Alabama, Georgia, Florida and South Carolina.
"We just wanted to show the public we are organized and ready for business," one unidentified Klansman told a policeman in Calhoun county, where more than 100 crosses were set ablaze.
Crosses also were burned in Savannah and Marietta, Ga., Clearwater and Jacksonville, Fla., and in Orangeburg, Greenville, Columbia, Greenwood and Charleston, S.C.

New Negro attempts to break color lines at lunch counters in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Texas were made Saturday.
Both white and Negro students supporting the campaign of southern Negroes picketed stores in State College, Pa.; Iowa City, Iowa; Los Angeles, Calif., and Albany, N.Y.
A group of Mid-west college students meeting at Milwaukee Sunday condemned racial segregation and endorsed peaceful resistance. The group is the Young Christian Students, a social action movement of Catholic College Students.
A mass meeting of Negroes was held at Newport News, Va., that Negroes who refuse to join in protests against segregation are "intellectual Uncle Toms."
"The fight for equality can only be won by total commitment, sacrifice and non-violence," said the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker.
More Negro college students go on trial today at Orangeburg, S.C., and Raleigh, N.C., for their part in anti-segregation demonstrations. Forty-three go on trial at Raleigh and 388 at Orangeburg.
Two U.S. senators, Georgia's Herman Talmadge, a Democrat, and New York's Kenneth Keating, a Republican, debated civil rights legislation on television Sunday night and wound up arguing about the lunch counter demonstrations. Talmadge said the sit-downers "have done a great deal to set back race relations." Keating contended Negroes have a right to protest against store owners who say they can do part of their trading there but cannot do other trading.

Attempt Made To Ease Tension Of U.S., Cuba

Venezuelan Chief Reported Talking With Raul Roa

Caracas, Venezuela — (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt is reliably reported trying to ease growing tension between the United States and Cuba.
He is holding talks with Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa, who is here on a semi-official visit.

Informed sources said that the Venezuelan president had succeeded in getting Cuba to postpone a worldwide conference of under-developed countries. Fidel Castro had been expected to use the conference for an attack on U.S. foreign economic policy.

While agreeing to a postponement, Roa reportedly refused a suggestion to cancel the meeting entirely. Castro had called it for this fall in Havana, but no definite date was fixed.

Support by Nasser
Most Latin American countries had made it plain they would not attend One of the enthusiastic supporters of the meeting has been President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Betancourt and Roa had their first talks on Saturday. Informed sources said the Venezuelan leader, a revolutionist himself, had emphasized to Roa the need for acting within the accepted rules of Latin American diplomacy in resolving disputes in the hemisphere.

There are increasing signs here that Betancourt wants to divert critical attention from Cuba to Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo's Dominican Republic.

Diplomatic relations between Caracas and Trujillo are near the breaking point, and commercial relations have been almost entirely cut off. Castro is also an enemy of Trujillo.

Observers here said if Betancourt is able to mobilize collective action by the American states against Trujillo it will help toward relieving tension between the United States and Cuba as well.

Urges National Primary Voting

Proxmire Plan Would Eliminate Convention Function

Washington — (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) today proposed a nation-wide primary for direct nomination of the presidential tickets of the major parties.

This would eliminate the prime function of the national conventions of both parties under the present system of naming the presidential candidates, often after sharp contests, from the convention floors.

"I would assume that the parties would continue to hold national conventions for the purpose of choosing vice presidential candidates and to write the party platforms," Proxmire said in a prepared senate speech.

He made his proposal just eight days before the Wisconsin April 5 primary in which Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts are contesting in the Democratic column and Vice President Richard M. Nixon is unopposed in the Republican.

"Wisconsinites are among the small percentage of fortunate Americans who will have a chance to voice their preferences in the nomination process because only 15 states have presidential primaries and in only three of these are there real contests," Proxmire said.

Proxmire's proposal would require amending the U. S. Constitution to set up the nationwide primary.

Two-Year-Old Philip Webb, seated on the lap of his father, Frank, of Eastlake, Ohio, is one of those rare persons whose brain doesn't register a sensation of pain. The middle finger of his left hand was nearly severed when he caught his hand in a door. "Look, mommy, I cut my finger," he told his mother casually. Nor did he wince or whimper when a doctor treated him. Four times before he has been to the hospital for such things as a burn from a hot iron, a cut from a razor blade and swallowing a drain cleaning fluid.

Adults Blamed for Troubles of Youth

Week-Long Activities Open for Annual White House Conference

Washington — (AP) — If there is anything wrong with the younger generation, the adults of this country have only themselves to blame.

That sentiment, expressed by speaker after speaker, set the tone today as 7,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth swung into their first full day's work. The meetings continue through Friday.

The cure for what ails youth, they said, must be found by treating the moral sickness of their elders.

"The basic problem of the young is not complicated, it is the apathy and perfidy and poor examples of the adult generations," said Miriam D. Hanks of Salt Lake City, an elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

Echoes Theme
Elder Hanks' theme, in a speech prepared for one of the five assemblies during the day's activities, were echoed by Prof. Abraham Heschel of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York, heard across the room.

"We, the grownups have delegated our moral responsibility to the schools, the social agencies, or community funds," he said in his prepared remarks.

"We have time for hobbies, for watching baseball; we have no time to help the needy, to sustain the sick, to offer companionship to the lonely, no time to offer guidance to our children... What we need are not only more school buildings and more playgrounds, but also the restoration of the home, the resurrection of the family."

Oppose Inclusion of Wood Products in Bill

Madison — (AP) — Inclusion of wood products in a farm marketing bill before the Wisconsin legislature is opposed by the Wisconsin-Michigan region of the Society of American Foresters.

The regional body wound up a 2-day convention Saturday after passing a resolution opposing inclusion of wood products in the measure sponsored by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Carl Diaz of Tomahawk, who proposed the resolution, said the marketing provisions would boost lumber prices to mills without increasing net income for wood producers.

Diaz said the wood industry has no surplus and does not need government controls.

Negroes Shun Work in South Africa

Mourn Death of 72 Shot by White Police Last Week

Johannesburg — (AP) — Thousands of Negroes stayed home today to show their strength and mourn the death of 72 blacks slain by white police a week ago. Police raided headquarters here of the Negro group sponsoring the stay-at-home work boycott.

The Witwatersrand security police moved into the downtown headquarters of the African National congress and seized a number of letters and documents. It was the second time in four days the police had visited the office. Headquarters of the Indian congress democrats and South African Congress of Trade unions also were raided.

South Africa's white government has readied a bill for introduction in parliament to outlaw the African National congress and the Pan Africanist congress, the two major Negro groups. The Pan Africanists, who spearheaded last week's demonstrations against the government's pass system — since suspended — have no regular office in Johannesburg.

Started Slowly
The work boycott, which began slowly last week and reached a climax today, was called by Albert Lutuli, president of the African National congress.

As the working day passed it was apparent that Lutuli's appeal was being headed in Johannesburg, Cape Town, Durban and other large cities where low-cost Negro labor is the base of the economy.

In the Cape Town area, most Africans employed in the public transport system and the building trades remained at home. Bread and milk deliveries were at a minimum.

Negroes near Port Elizabeth blocked roads with stones, tin cans and old cars to prevent all but Negro nurses from going to work.

In Johannesburg no railway tickets had been sold by 7:30 a.m. at one of the big suburban depots, usually about 1,000 would have been sold by then.

Infant Dies in Weekend Crash

Milwaukee — (AP) — Two weekend deaths — including that of an infant — raised Wisconsin's highway fatality count for the year to 144, three more than on this day last year.

Janet Pogorelski, 8-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pogorelski of Beloit, was killed Sunday when the automobile her mother was driving and another car collided near Afton in Rock county.

Mrs. Pogorelski and four other children were injured.

Edward G. Stegner, 32, Manitowoc, was killed early Sunday as his car went out of control on a Highway 42 curve near his home. Stegner was thrown from the car and the wheels passed over him.

Army Tank Runs Wild, Rips Through Wall, Smashes Grocery Store

Cynthiana, Ky. — (AP) — His training demonstration over, army reserve Capt. Paul S. Burton waved off the police escort and nosed his 20-ton tank into the downtown reserve building.

In it went, and out again — right through the rear wall. It left a 20-by-25 foot hole in the brick wall, thundered across the railroad tracks and crashed into Brooks' grocery store.

The accelerator stuck and the brakes failed, said Capt. Burton.

Other damage in Sunday's mishap:
The Louisville and Nashville railroad tracks were blocked; a natural gas line ripped open; about $7,000 loss to the buildings and contents; that he then would turn to Sec. of Labor James P. Mitchell.

New Evidence Shows Human Cancers May Be Caused by Viruses

Pinpointing Specific Virus May Lead to Prevention, Control

Louisville, Ky. — (AP) — Top virus experts today presented new and surprising evidence that human cancers probably are caused by viruses.

They also reported that some viruses, contrary to current scientific opinion, produce substances which destroy cancers.

If specific viruses can be pinpointed in human cancers, new methods might be developed to prevent or control the disease.

Walking Museum
"Every man is a walking museum of many viruses," Dr. Jerome T. Syvertson of the University of Minnesota told a seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer society.

Dr. Sarah Stewart of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., reported that extracts from two human cancers, and from the urine of three children with cancer have produced curious, cancer-like growth changes in healthy human cells grown in laboratory dishes.

Triggered Into Growth
There are grounds to suspect — but no proof yet — that the extracts could contain a virus. She also has found that a virus causing leukemia in mice can induce cancers in other types of animals and humans handling the cancerous mice have been found to have antibodies against the virus, indicating they had been infected with it but had resisted it.

Wants to Ask Forgiveness for Synagog Attack

Gadsden, Ala. — (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Jerry Hunt wants to ask a rabbi to forgive him for the fire-bomb and rifle attack at a synagogue.

Hunt is being held on two counts of assault with intent to murder because two men were wounded during the brief anti-Semitic violence Friday night.

Police Commissioner H. T. Mashburn said Hunt is still arrogant but that he expressed a desire Sunday to apologize and ask forgiveness of Rabbi Sol Rubin of the Beth Israel Reform synagogue.

Police said the popular high school pupil signed a statement detailing how he hurled a home-made fire-bomb at a synagogue window and then opened fire with an automatic rifle when two men ran out to investigate. He was arrested Saturday.

Hunt contends that he carried out the attack as revenge after he had words with two Jewish boys several weeks ago.

The youth described himself as a student of Nazism and said he has read a number of books on Hitler and World War II in Germany.

Hearing Set on Extended Area Phone Service

Sherwood and Stockbridge May Receive Dial System

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Dial operation and extended area service may be provided for the subscribers of the Stockbridge and Sherwood Telephone company in Sherwood and Stockbridge, Calumet county. The public service commission will hold a hearing at the county courthouse in Chilton April 6 to consider the company's proposal to convert the two exchanges to dial equipment at a cost of nearly $90,000.

There are 270 telephones served from the Sherwood exchange and 265 from Stockbridge.

No Toll Charge

The extended area service plans of the company over a period of time would permit Stockbridge subscribers to telephone Sherwood, and those at Sherwood to call both Stockbridge and Appleton without tolls.

Later the company proposes to establish free service at Sherwood to include the Hilbert exchange of the General Telephone company and the Forest Junction exchange of the Calumet Telephone company and at Stockbridge to include the Chilton exchange of the General Telephone company.

Usually such extensions of service are accompanied by rate adjustments, but possible tariff changes are not included in the application for authorization for the capital improvements.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I have been paying social security taxes since 1937. How do I know I am getting credit for these contributions?

A. You may obtain a card from your social security office to request a statement of amounts recorded in your old age, survivors, and disability insurance account. You should check your record at least every three years. This will make it easier to correct your account if there is an error or your employer failed to report or reported incorrectly.

Q. How long has domestic employment been covered by social security?

A. The current law has been in effect since January 1, 1955. Domestic employment has been covered since January 1951, however, the requirements necessary for coverage were different prior to Jan. 1, 1955 than they have been since that date.

Q. Is there any literature available which would tell me more about domestic employment and how it is affected by social security?

A. The social security office has two booklets available. Leaflet 21 is of special interest to domestic employers. Leaflet 24 is designed for domestic workers. Both will be provided free of charge by any social security office upon request.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 601 S. Elm street, Appleton.

'Phantom' Roads Campaign Killed

Attorney General Says No Cause Of Action Found Against Towns

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — A campaign against "phantom" town roads for which the state highway department was allegedly paying subsidies fell with a thud heard throughout state politics when Attorney General John W. Reynolds concluded that there was no cause of action against the towns.

Reynolds announced his decision after a fellow Democrat who is head of the state highway commission, Harvey Grasse of Door county, told him the commission had no evidence of fraud or falsification of town road aid claims, that the discrepancies found were based on differences of opinion on the legal status of roads, and that other errors discovered in a road inventory for the legislature were "understandable."

Embarrassed Nelson

Thus evidently collapsed a campaign against the practices in road administration of preceding Republican administrations that was begun by a newspaper in Madison on the basis of a "leaked" report of an incomplete survey by the highway department.

The imputations of irregularity in the highway department and the impugning of the practices of hundreds of town boards reportedly had embarrassed Gov. Gaylord Nelson, who has declined to discuss the question publicly.

"Under the circumstances considered, it is my view that the highway commission was acting properly in bringing the surveys up to date, but that it has no duty to attempt to make corrections for past years under the factual situation here considered," Reynolds advised Grasse formally.

Appalling Computations

"It is also our opinion," he added, "that since there was no falsification or fraud and that any discrepancies are explainable on the bases set forth in your letter, no action for the recovery of these highways aids be commenced."

Reynolds said that such errors as have been discovered would be extremely difficult and expensive to correct.

"The computations involved would be appalling even to the most expert accountant," he said.

"The question of whether or not a road is open and used for public travel, and just when such condition existed are so obscure and open to so much dispute that it would require a multitude of legal actions to make a final determination in the 1273 towns of the state," Reynolds remarked.

He disclosed that currently the towns and the state agree on the definitions of eligible town road mileages. He noted also, for the first time in a public document, that some towns in the past have submitted claims that were less than their eligibility. He pointed out that the laws defining a highway are vague and uncertain, and subject to varying interpretations.

Grasse also explained that the state's discrepancies were obtained through new methods and equipment accurate to one thousandth of a mile "which gave more accurate readings than were ever before possible."

'Going Steady' Ban At Catholic School In Michigan Parish

St. Joseph, Mich. — "Going steady" is going out at St. Joseph Roman Catholic High school here.

Students who go steady are banned from holding school office, taking part in athletics or other school activities.

Parish priests explained the action in sermons Sunday, saying the teenage habit of dating one girl or boy exclusively often leads to sin and other complications.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Kenny, pastor of St. Joseph church, asked parents to discourage and forbid their children from going steady at least until the last half of the senior year of high school.

Ill Health Traced To Wrong Habits Of Posture

Occupational habits of posture can cause spinal curvatures especially if the work is of such nature as to keep you in the same position day after day. Consider for a moment the posture of the following: railroad engineer, telephone operator, typist, linotype operator, dentist, shoemaker, draftsman, and many others. A farmer came into the office the other day with a callous on his shoulder caused by habitually carrying bushel baskets of feed on the same shoulder.

Aside from the displacement of organs due to developed postural curvatures, nerve irritations are created which lowers resistance and vitality thus predisposing us to disease.

The doctor of Chiropractic is especially trained to aid in correcting spinal distortions, thereby removing the cause of lowered resistance and disease.

cans will have to get out their battle axes," he said.
Speaks of Record
"I supported the food for peace plan since the beginning. Kennedy voted against it, but now he is for it too. I have been called too liberal, too controversial, too radical. But now everybody agrees with me," Humphrey said, pointing at his record.
"I have endured barbs and stabs on my civil rights stand. I have incurred the enmity of the gas and oil industry. I have been in fights on taxation. I have raised my voice against high interest rates."
"If Humphrey is elected president, the monetary system will be for the people; money will be for the public good, for expansion and improvement. There will be concerted efforts to put interest rates within reason. It won't get me many votes on Wall Street," he laughed.

His talk drew hearty chuckles from his audience. Standing on his own record, he threatened Nixon's.
"I'll catch him some day; there'll be a day when I lower the boom."
"Nixon has wrapped himself in the mantle of the Eisenhower administration when things were going well. He is Eisenhower the younger — with a heavier beard. He has devised the split-personality formation."
"President Eisenhower let the cat out of the bag when he made it known that Nixon was his candidate for president. He said there had never been between Nixon and himself a specific difference in points of view on any important problem in seven years."

Hits Inaction
Humphrey feels that President Eisenhower's admission that Nixon is "in on everything" serves as an indictment.
"The Benson farm program is Richard Nixon's farm program. While farm prices were dropping Nixon was at cabinet meetings and didn't raise his voice on behalf of the American farmer."
"There have been no new starts in conservation and resource development. Nixon didn't object."
"President Eisenhower vetoed Democratic housing bills twice in 1959 and Nixon didn't raise his voice."
Lists Vetos
Humphrey listed eight other veto occasions when Nixon apparently did not differ with the president, ending with Nixon's "nod of agreement" when the missile and space program was cut and to sweeps in foreign policy from John Foster Dulles' massive resistance' to Christian Herter's negotiations.

"We're out of money and deep in debt," he said of the party. "We can't even run the television shows we were planning. I am willing to give 20 hours a day of my mind and body."
The Minnesota senator wound up a busy day with a rally at Wausau that drew more than 1,000 persons. He had gone there in one of nine caravans that toured the state Saturday. More than 100 automobiles and a score of buses carried Humphrey supporters into Wausau for the rally.
Proposes Moratorium
In his Wausau speech, Humphrey proposed that the United States agree to a temporary moratorium on the underground testing of smaller nuclear weapons.
He said this country should condition this proposal on agreement by Soviet Russia to an adequate number of inspections to make a major nuclear test ban treaty "safe and enforceable." Humphrey said the moratorium would be of specified duration.

Health Insurance for the Aged

Democrats in Congress have been pushing hard for the adoption of the so-called Forand bill which proposes an increase in the social security tax for employers and employees to pay for medical care for old age and survivor insurance beneficiaries. The measure is strongly supported by organized labor and is regarded by most Democrats as holding the greatest potential for vote getting of the measures now on the calendar of Congress.

In spite of the strong push by the Democrats and organized labor, Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Green Bay), a member of the ways and means committee, predicts failure of the effort to force a house vote at this session of Congress.

The problem of providing health benefits for the aged is recognized as a genuine one by both the proponents and the opponents of this bill. The American Medical association and the representatives of companies providing health insurance are opposed because they say the Forand bill will not accomplish what it proposes to do and further, that its adoption will be a step towards socialized medicine and government controlled health insurance.

It is claimed that the bill will not accomplish its announced goal because many of the persons in need of medical care will not benefit because most of them never have been under the social security program. Rep. Byrnes touched upon this point when he said that priority should begin with the needs of persons who have no social security protection. He said that at least the minimum retirement benefit of $23 a month should go to the needs of these persons rather than to those already covered by social security. He said the cost should be paid by the federal treasury rather than out of social security funds.

In this connection, he said there are 1½ million people now over 72 years of age who receive nothing whatsoever from the social security system. Unquestionably most of the elderly persons in need of medical help are in this group. They have no claim whatsoever upon social security and therefore could not be helped by the Forand bill. However, the opponents of the Forand measure can be sure that the fight is not over even though there should be no vote at this session of Congress.

A Washington correspondent of the New York Times has pointed out that mail on this subject received by Sen. Jacob K. Javits has more than doubled in recent weeks and has become by far the greatest in volume among the 100 topics on which Sen. Javits' staff keeps tally. In January and February such mail ran around 400 letters in a month. Between March 1 and March 15 the tally jumped to more than 700 letters per month. Furthermore, the March mail has been running two to one in favor of the Forand bill. Naturally enough the "For" mail comes mostly from labor unions, clubs of retired persons and retired individuals who have chronic illnesses or who have had operations. The mail against the measure is chiefly from physicians, insurance companies, pharmaceutical houses and businessmen.

The opponents of the measure have been relying heavily upon the efforts by health insurance companies to provide insurance at reasonable cost to persons over 65 years of age. Tremendous gains have been made and so the promised delay is on the side of the opponents. In the meantime, the physicians have been making some genuine studies of the health problems of the aged and have been endeavoring to set up systems whereby physicians will see to it that no person in need of medical aid will go without it because of inability to pay.

This is the most promising proposal to come from the opponents of socialized medicine and it should be strongly pushed by all physicians who hope to stave off such legislation as the Forand bill. One thing is certain, in this country no person is going to be permitted to suffer in his old age because of inability to secure medical aid. If it does not come to him through the program of the physicians or through private health insurance, the government will act. Those opposing the measure should keep that in mind.

munities that have not had Negro populations before. Already some are living in Fond du Lac; Oshkosh, the Fox Cities and Green Bay are almost sure to receive some Negro immigration during the next decade.

When this development occurs it will present a considerable challenge to these communities: they are going to be faced with the question of whether they are going to accept these people of a different skin color grudgingly and with a display of ill-feeling or whether they, as Christian communities steeped in the American tradition of freedom and equality, are going to welcome them as they would new residents with white skins. In community after community all over the country it has been shown that where little thought has been given to the problems of the races living side by side and no preparations have been made, ill-feeling and sometimes even violence results, whereas in those places where community leaders have sat down and discussed these problems, the transition has been a relatively easy one. We think it would be wise at this time for civic leaders, school authorities, law enforcement people, welfare groups and others in the Fox valley to begin studying how other communities have welcomed Negro residents successfully.

more or less than such an assurance except in the world of woe, and since the sex of a baby is set long before it is apparent, the specialists have done nothing except pay lip service to the outworn ideas of Iran.

In Western nations we often decry the insistence upon "romance" which has doomed some marriages to failures. We have divorces for just as silly reasons as do the Iranians, and some of our Hollywood idols practice a form of successive bigamy which is little less than promiscuity.

But nothing good can be said of a custom which makes the success and happiness of a marriage determined by the sex of the offspring. And just a cursory examination of modern medical knowledge would make the whole idea ridiculous.

The Negro in Wisconsin

Here in the Fox valley the remark often is heard that it is difficult for us to understand the racial problems of the South because we have practically no Negroes living among us. While this statement is true, it may not remain so for very long.

Sales Management magazine, in a recent study of the Negro market, listed the changes in the Negro populations of the states between 1950 and 1959. Wisconsin's Negro population jumped during that period from 28,200 to 62,400, an increase of 121 per cent. This percentage increase was exceeded only by states that have almost negligible Negro populations (Maine, Nevada, New Hampshire and Vermont). Thus it can be said that Wisconsin has had the greatest increase, percentage-wise, in Negro population among the states that have any such population to speak of.

Most of Wisconsin's Negro population is concentrated in Milwaukee — Sales Management says that of the state's 62,400 Negroes, 60,890 live in the Milwaukee metropolitan area. The others live mostly in Kenosha, Racine, Madison and Beloit. Yet while these Negroes are concentrated almost exclusively in the southeastern section of the state, it can be considered inevitable that they will gradually move north and west and spread out into com-

The Shah Hopes for a Son

Iranians are rejoicing now that their Shah has announced that his new Queen Farah is expecting a baby in the fall. But the background of hope for a male heir is almost unbelievable in this modern age of extensive scientific and medical knowledge particularly from a man like the Shah, educated, cultured and humane.

The Shah has divorced two wives for the simple reason that they did not bear him a son. According to Iranian law, only a boy may succeed to the throne. Now Iranians are confident of a boy partly because of a saying, "third time lucky," partly because of a regimen which the young, beautiful commoner queen is following. According to the specialists, this formula of living gives at least "a 50 per cent assurance for the birth of a boy." Since there never can be

And Pass the Apple Butter

A French dietician has called upon his people to eat better breakfasts. Dr. Andre Soubiran concedes that the French are known for the delicacy and variety of their culinary dishes but it seldom extends to the breakfast hour when most Frenchmen gulp a cup of scorching coffee or reluctantly add a brioche or croissant. This habit, according to Dr. Soubiran, makes for under par mornings and, more seriously, huge luncheons with the resultant expanding waistlines and a "crisis of the liver."

The English probably have emphasized the breakfast but it really has taken the Americans to make the first meal of the day something to drool over. True, today most people consider a glass of orange juice sufficient with the mid-morning coffee break, but think what could be — the pancake, the flapjack, the griddle cake was a part of every farm family's breakfast with the pungent buckwheat variety from batter that lasted all winter the most filling and enjoyable. The grits of the South with syrup or dipped into the yolk of a gently fried egg went with the helping of side pork or thick cut home-smoked ham. And for those who like fruit there were grapefruit broiled and with a spoonful of maple syrup, baked apples with raisins and a dab of thick cream, strawberries with a dash of nutmeg and the same cream too thick to pour. The toasted cinnamon bread of the North gave way to the corn bread or "batty cake" in the South.

No self-respecting New Englander of a generation past would have left the morning table without a good helping of fried potatoes to accompany his crisp bacon, thin sliced ham or juicy steak. In the Midwest

Dieticians insist that a good breakfast increases one's abilities during the morning and lessens the danger of overeating at noon. But maybe the big breakfasts of the last century, unless followed by a morning's plowing or tree felling, would also encourage that morning doze, that widening girth. But it would be a nice way to grow fat and sleepy.

New Tax Rulings on Expense Accounts Costly to Business

From The Albany (Ga.) Herald

A rising swell of protest is besieging Washington, mounted by hundreds of thousands of American business enterprises — corporations, partnerships and individual proprietorships — who this year will be saddled with an onerous and costly procedure designed for them to aid the federal government in income tax collections. Under a new regulation of the internal revenue service, employers will become responsible to the government for justifying the expense accounts of their higher-paid employees.

Henceforth, they must stand ready to prove to the government what items — travel costs, entertainment, meals, convention charges and many others — are actually covered by the expense accounts of their 25 highest-paid officers. A corresponding requirement also applies to partnerships and small business.

The order means that each business will be forced to employ additional accountants and bookkeepers to keep tabs on virtually all expense accounts in order to assemble information for the government to use in determining whether these individual employees are or are not cheating on their income tax deductions.

The cost in increased overhead for all types of business will be staggering. But what is even worse, this method of income tax collection is repugnant to the American tradition in that it places an employer in the unfair position of becoming the government's policeman over his own employees. Further, the regulation itself is discriminatory against the top 25 men in a corporation, and that aspect can only be removed by later extending this expense-record keeping requirement to embrace all employees entitled to expense payments.

The regulation cuts across the whole body of Anglo-Saxon legal tradition, to say nothing of specific American statutes, in that it immediately presumes an extremely large number of our citizens — those whose expenses in company endeavors are paid by the employer — to be guilty of income tax evasion. And while we can agree with a certain element within congress and the IRS which considers "expense account living" to be one of the evils of our affluent society, we cannot agree to a government attitude which tends to place a stamp of guilt upon any citizen or class of citizens before they have been indicted, tried and convicted by a jury of their peers.

In sum, this government regulation, like so many others, necessarily must fail in its purpose. It will fail because the additional accounting costs to be saddled upon all American business will doubtless in the end exceed by far the taxes to be collected from the dishonest.

But the regulation will fail most because it cannot promote respect for and compliance with tax laws which already border upon the confiscatory. In the name of good-old-fashioned, hard-rock common sense, the regulation should be abandoned by the treasury department simply because it is an accepted fact that most Americans are not crooks and thieves, whatever the government's apparent opinion to the contrary.

Library's Figures Show TV Does Not Affect Reading

From The Cincinnati Inquirer

Over the years, there has been a good deal of worrying as to the impact of TV on reading habits. The widespread assumption was that watching television was taking the place of reading books. In many cases, it undoubtedly has been. But if the public library's figures are to be taken as our yardstick, it would seem that TV has not prevented some growth in the habit of reading. TV may be open to criticism on other grounds, but apparently it cannot be charged with responsibility for stopping the reading habit.

In the 10 years past, according to the library's year-end report, circulation of books in Hamilton county has risen by 33 per cent. The population of the county has risen in that time by 20 per

Under the Capital Dome GOP Eyes State Ad as Gimmick for Nelson

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Jottings in state politics:

Republicans are preparing to challenge the plan of Gov. Nelson's department of resource development to buy a special section in a New York newspaper for June. Billed by the governor's office as a promotion for the state's industry, Republicans are suspicious that the timing has a relation to the governor's desire for a national build-up of his aspiration to be the Democratic national convention keynote.

John Doar, young New Richmond lawyer, considered making a bid for the Ninth district Republican nomination for congress-man, but has changed his mind. The Republican organization has not yet found a likely contender against Rep. Lester Johnson, the strongly established Democratic incumbent.

Recent comments here about the outcome of the Milwaukee primary election for mayor have brought several communications suggesting that the conservative community there backed Rep. Henry Reuss, thus explaining the comparatively poor showing of George Bowman, the supposed "Republican" contender in the race. If Reuss becomes mayor, Republicans in Milwaukee are reasonably confident they can recapture his fifth district house seat with State cent. If "books circulated" is a fair yardstick of reading, which seems reasonable, there has been a substantial increase in the number of borrowers or the frequency of borrowing.

Meantime, the racks of paperback books that are to be found in railway stations, airports, drug stores and food stores — as well as book stores — would suggest that the growth of reading may be greater even than the library's statistics would indicate. And from a cursory inspection, one could conclude that there are more serious books and good books in the market than was the case a few years ago.

A daily newspaper, of course, has a vested interest in the public's habit of reading. We would be most unhappy if they stopped. But quite aside from this cheerfully mercenary interest, we find encouragement in the signs that show the printed page holding its own against the illuminated 21-inch picture.

Sen. Kirby Hendee as the GOP nominee.

Watch the campaign of John Schmitt, the Milwaukee brewery workers local secretary, for the job of vice president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO to be vacated by Charles Schultz. Schmitt is one of the shrewdest and most energetic of the younger union chieftains of Wisconsin. The man chosen for the second spot in the big labor federation this year will almost surely become president when George Harberman, the present leader, retires in an early year.

Some Republicans are talking about Jerrold Murphy, the Fond du Lac lawyer who once challenged Vernon W. Thomson for a GOP convention endorsement for attorney general, for that spot on their ticket this year. Murphy now is a lower court judge in Fond du Lac, is widely and favorably known, and a good campaigner.

John Voss, the elder statesman of the Democrats in strongly Republican Walworth county, is running for the state legislature.

The Lake Geneva lawyer will run for the seat of Sen. William F. Trinke, Republican. Trinke has not yet said he will run, has hinted that he won't. But legislators rarely retire, whatever they may say about their frustrations and disappointments during sessions.

Reporters who are in the best position to judge have concluded that Gov. Nelson's publicity team in his executive office is the most prolific in the history of the executive establishment. Directly in charge is William Fairfield, with a general assistant from Ed Bayley, Nelson's No. 1 aide who was trained as a newsman specializing in government and politics.

Mrs. Dena Smith, the former acting state treasurer who wants the Republican nomination again this year, may find it difficult to get the party endorsement at the May convention — which she says she must have before she will enter the primary election.

Rep. William K. Van Pelt of Fond du Lac is likely to be chairman of the Republican delegate convention in Milwaukee.

Pastor Strikes Quiet Contrast With 1917 Auto

From The Cincinnati Inquirer

Word from Newton, Mass., strikes a quiet note in these days of the rush into outer space and developments that may be grouped (although with bias) under the heading of technological disturbances.

Along the streets of that city a pastor chugs serenely along in a Stanley Steamer, as he has been doing for 43 years, presumably affording jet pilots a view of fine vapor trails. The evolution of the Tin Lizzie into complexities with fins has left him undisturbed. It would be comforting to find a sermon there today, when change for the better is no more than the cold war into tug-of-war.

Yet when the pastor cut loose with his boiling kettle on 1917 roads, it must have been in the sight of an appalled Newton population. So, in this time of spectacular change, perhaps what the pastor's steamer serves to do is point out that it has never been possible to say, "Keep the change."

Rep. Byrnes Attacks Medical Aid Measure

Green Bay Congressman Says Forand Bill 'Discriminatory, Unsoundly Financed'

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Rep. John Byrnes, Green Bay, chairman of the house Republican policy committee, today denounced the Forand bill establishing medical aid for the aged as being both "discriminatory" and "unsoundly financed."

In an interview, Byrnes, a member of the ways and means committee currently holding hearings on the Forand measure, said that the bill would tax present workers to pay benefits to the aged, "regardless of their economic circumstances."

"This bill also excludes the millions of Americans in the working force along with their families who may have just as urgent medical-economic problems as the aged have," Byrnes declared. "It would tax these same Americans who are still working, regardless of their ability to pay."

Explaining that the provisions of the Forand amendment are "unsoundly financed," Byrnes said that actuarial authorities estimate that it is at least 100 percent under-financed. Cost estimates of the first year of operation, he said, would be fixed at $2 billion, which would increase to from $6 billion to $7.5 billion within twenty years.

The measure calls for an increase in the existing social security taxes within 10 years by 91 per cent for those employed by others and by 6 and three quarters per cent to the self-employed, Byrnes said.

Charging that the Forand amendment has overlooked the coverage of the age by commercial insurance policies, the congressman pointed out that today almost "half our population has health insurance." By 1960, he said, "about 90 per cent of the aged will have such insurance."

Emphasizing that the White House Conference on the Aged will meet in January to present recommendations, Byrnes said that such recommendations would represent the work of 3,000 attending delegates who had done extensive research in the field. Their program for the aging probably would be presented to the congress shortly after their conference.

Opposition to the Forand bill does not indicate lack of interest in contributing to the solution of the problems of the aged, Byrnes said, and he hopes that "a thorough and effective study" will find the answers to the "health problems confronting our society."

It's fun to watch designs and colors change on fast-spinning disks. Milk bottle caps may be used as the disks with designs drawn on paper pasted on them. Disks may also be cut from cardboard if a compass is first used to draw the outline. Figures 1, 2, 3 and 4 show interesting patterns that can be made with crayons.

The striped circle in Figure 1 should be made on white paper with red crayon. Clip out the circle, making it the same size as the milk bottle cap, then paste it on the top.

The square in Figure 2 is made with two colors of crayon. The spiral in Figure 3 is red and green — red where the black appears in the picture and green where the spiral is white. The triangle in Figure 4 is made with red, green and blue.

These disks should be used as handspinners. Hold a disk between two fingers and thumb above a polished table. Twist your fingers and thumb to cause the disk to whirl as you release it and allow it to fall squarely upon the bare table. As it lands it will spin on the smooth surface. You make a game of this to see who can spin a disk longest. With a little practice, anyone can become skilled.

Another way to use the disks is shown in Figure 5. Make a four-bladed paper pinwheel and paste a decorated disk on the front. Stick a pin through the disk and pinwheel from front to back. In a strong wind the pinwheel disk will spin almost faster than you can see. (Copyright, 1960)

Protests 'Book-Burning' by Reviewer Lacking Understanding

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — When publishers submit books for review, they usually set a publication date and it has long been customary not to violate that date. There is no logic about the matter the publisher sending the book at his own risk. But as there are Sokolsky these days newsletters about everything, there are newsletters about books. Such a newsletter apparently is not required to abide by the publication date. It is free to discuss in February what others are not to say anything about until April.

Such a newsletter is issued by Virginia Kirkus and she is given this advantage because it is assumed that she informs only the trade and that bookstores make their advance purchases based upon her short paragraph digests of books which tip bookstores as to what they should buy. So far as I am concerned, if Virginia Kirkus may refer to a book some months prior to its publication date, so may I and I shall do it.

My particular interest is a book by Ralph de Toledano, entitled "Lament For a Generation," to which the Kirkus circular refers in this manner:

Unpleasant Trip
"The author of the controversial 'Seeds of Treason' and 'Nixon' plots his 21-year voyage from Columbia University Stalinism to the new conservatism of current times. It is an unpleasant trip, and one which makes about as strong a polemic against liberalism as one can find nowadays. The first ten years—break with the party, concern over the murders of Trotsky and Carlo Tresca—create a classic letter apparently is not required to abide by the publication date. It is free to discuss in February what others are not to say anything about until April.

New Books

Roaring Twenties Described In Compilation of Writings

World war I. Lively, county stories and essays by the fairs, the tin Lizzie, jazz, flap-writers who recorded the era. Among them are Thomas Wolfe, John Dos Passos, William Allen White, Sherwood Anderson, and Carl Sandburg. The editor of the volume is a newspaper columnist and author of several short stories and books.

Aid to Education
The relationship of government to public education in the United States is outlined by James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard for two decades, in his new book "The Child, the Parent and the State." He predicts steps will have to be taken by parents as well as state and national government to prevent the decline of the educational system.

Fishing adventures designed to make the hearts of all fishermen yearn for the outdoors are contained in "The Fireside Book of Fishing," edited by Raymond R. Camp, associate editor of Field and Stream magazine. The stories are told by masters such as Stephen Vincent Benet and Ernest Hemingway.

A big city's war against crime is the backdrop of "Diary of a D.A." by Martin M. Frank, now associate justice of the appellate division of the New York State Supreme court. A wide range of illegal activities and some classic crimes make the volume lively reading.

Norbert Wiener, a pioneer in the development of automatic control, is the author of "The Tempter," the story of a scientist torn by the conflict of surrendering his personal integrity for success. It presents a vivid picture of a scientist and his role in a corporation.

New fiction includes "The Bronze God of Rhodes," by L. Sprague De Camp, a historical novel about one of the seven wonders of the world; "The Sea Change," by Elizabeth Jane Howard, a tale of four intelligent companions who are unable to communicate with each other; and "Campus on the River," by William Van O'Connor, a collection of short stories on American college life.

A way to help keep the roof over your head even if you become totally disabled!

New York Life's new Home Protector Disability Policy can provide vital income if you become totally disabled.

Probably every family man has worried about how he could keep on paying the mortgage or the rent if a disabling illness or injury prevented him from working. New York Life's new Home Protector Disability Policy can help provide a way.

A Home Protector plan can be adapted to your specific needs. You have several choices of the amount of monthly income benefit, the time when your benefit begins, and the age (50, 55, 60 or 65, in most states) to which you want to be protected.

And here are some important features: While your policy is properly in force, New York Life can't cancel it, can't add restrictions to it, and can't raise your premiums—regardless of any changes in your health or occupation, or the number of times you collect benefits.

Although the Home Protector offers a lot of peace of mind, premiums can fit your budget quite easily. For more information on this desirable plan, see your New York Life Agent. He can also tell you about other income protection plans, major medical and hospital and surgical plans, including hospital and surgical plans for persons over age 65. Charlie Discusses Eagle on Coin, Sentences for Typing, Other Facts

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

POTPOURRI — Do you have a quarter in your pocket? Then look at the bird (the one in flight) which decorates it. It has the head of a hawk, the body of a dove, and the wings of an eagle which it is supposed to be. But it is flying improperly. Eagles fly with head and feet down.

The most frequently used sentence for trying out of a typewriter is the one which gets most of the letters of the alphabet into play, thus: "The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back." But a typewriter salesman tells me that somebody's pretty secretary walked into his store one day and tested a typewriter with this sentence: "Exquisite farm wench gives body jolt to prize stinker." Whatever happened to "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party?" That sentence, incidentally, is said to have been coined by Abraham Lincoln and given some of its permanence by the poet Edwin Meade Robinson whose verse, "The Typewriter's Song," was written in the 1880's. One of the stanzas goes thus: A start! A thrill! A rattle—and then It pounds out, swift and hearty—

I have always thought that attorneys should be required to work in a newspaper's city room before going out into the world to perpetrate the dreadfully worded pieces of legal gobbledegook. The editor, a quick man with a pencil, could cure them before they shock the papers they write. Recently I skimmed over a piece of work by an attorney and it read in part: "... the aforesaid defendant, illegally inequitably, in c onscionably, unjustly, unlawfully and vindictively formed an illegal, inequitable, unconscionable, unlawful, unjust and vindictive conspiracy. . ."

Wisconsin, now readying for the census with the rest of the country had its first census taken in 1850 when we were just two years old as a state. Population then was 305,319. There were 20,

$12,000 Damage Reported in Fire

Wittenberg — Damage was estimated at $12,000 when fire destroyed the Calvin Grosskopf farm home 10 miles northeast of here in the town of Birnamwood Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Grosskopf and three small children were at home when the fire started from an overheated chimney. Some furniture from the lower floor was saved. Bowler and Wittenberg volunteer departments answered the call.

The Wittenberg department put out a chimney fire at the Frank Bernarde farm home Friday.

177 farms, 65,000 cows, 265 churches. . .

A teacher in a Wisconsin high school had embarked on a plan to teach each child one new word a day. It was a little tougher than usual because most of the kids in her class were of foreign parents. The teacher required one child each day to report on how he had used the word for the day and the circumstances.

Recently the required word was "ravenous." The following day a girl student reported on her effort to use the word, thus:

"I came home and went into the kitchen where my mother was and I said, 'Ma, I'm ravenous.' My ma got a real scared look on her face and then she said, 'In this family, it's always something!'"

Excuse me for being repetitive on the subject of "threes," but I am still seeking the word that implies that things happen by threes; there is such a word and I knew it once but have forgotten it. Of course I don't believe it, but I'd like to have the word.

But last week the "three" came up again when three famed newsmen died. They were John Lardner, James Metcalf and the famed F.P.A.

The Law and You
Fifth Amendment Valuable in Making Accuser Prove Guilt
What is all this fuss about the "fifth amendment"? Is one who uses it suspect? What is the "fifth amendment"?
All the recent publicity has been about one phrase in the fifth amendment to the United States Constitution, which states, "No person . . . shall be compelled in any criminal trial where one is under oath to be a witness against himself." This was adopted as part of the bill of rights, which our ancestors battled so hard. The same clause is in article I, section 8 of the Wisconsin Constitution. This provision has been constituted to apply to any hearing or trial where one is under oath. While it is true that this constitutional provision is a valuable one. Recently a prominent federal judge cited four instances where the fifth amendment protects all persons from abuse by government in its powers of investigation, arrest, trial and punishment. They are:

1. A person may honestly fear the risk of prosecution, even though he has not committed a crime. A man who killed another accidentally or in self-defense would be shifting the burden of proving innocence to himself if he answered questions about the killing. The burden of proof, in our legal system, is upon the accuser.
2. The appearance of laymen before investigating committees which might ignore fair play and impartiality. It is understandable that a witness, lost in the confusion, might well turn to the privilege against self-incrimination as a sanctuary from a situation he feels utterly incompetent to handle.
3. A witness may testify fully about his own beliefs and associations but use the fifth amendment to protect his friends from "the same ordeal he has been through."
4. A witness may feel that if he answers one question, the so-called "waiver doctrine" will make him liable to contempt charges if he later refuses to answer other questions.
This right to stand mute and make the accuser prove his case is fundamental in our system of justice. Not only does the accuser have the burden of bringing forth the proof, but there is no way in which the accused can be forced to testify against himself, unless he be given immunity from prosecution.

Regulation of Store Credit Suggested

Green Bay Labor Council Revives Illegality Charges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A challenge by the Green Bay Labor council on the legal right of retail merchants to charge interest on their credit accounts may revive proposals for a state regulatory law.

William Nuesse, state acting commissioner of banks, says he will confer with Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds and Gov. Gaylord Nelson about his legal responsibilities in connection with the so-called revolving credit practices of stores throughout the state.

Exceed Limits
The Green Bay group protested that such interest charges are now illegal under state law. It demanded that the banking department investigate. The labor group's investigation was the first direct demand for state action in the field.

A year ago the legislature was told that some of the interest charges of stores exceeded the limits for licensed credit agencies. The testimony was in connection with legislation sponsored by a retail merchants association that would have made legal the revolving credit practices of many of the larger city stores.

Gov. Nelson later vetoed the bill, but said he would probably name a committee to sponsor a new act after a proposed model state law was drafted by a national advisory organization.

It is possible that such a proposal for state regulation will be revived in May although a spokesman for the executive office said today there are no immediate plans on the matter.

Merger Plans Of Paper Firms Hit Court Snag

The oft-delayed plans to join United Board Carton Corporation and Interstate Container Corporation struck another snag when a New Jersey judge ruled that it was a merger rather than an acquisition by United Board.

Under New Jersey law, where United Board is incorporated, the ruling by Judge Victor S. Kilkenney in the chancery division of superior court is significant because an acquisition merely has to be approved by a majority of stockholders. United stockholders did this in October. A merger, however, must have two-thirds approval, and dissenting stockholders have the right to sell their stock back to the company at a price set by independent appraisers.

The question got to the court on complaints by two small United stockholders. Under terms of the original agreement, Saul L. Epstein, president and owner of Interstate, would have acquired 40 per cent control of United Board by receiving 180,000 United shares in exchange for Interstate.

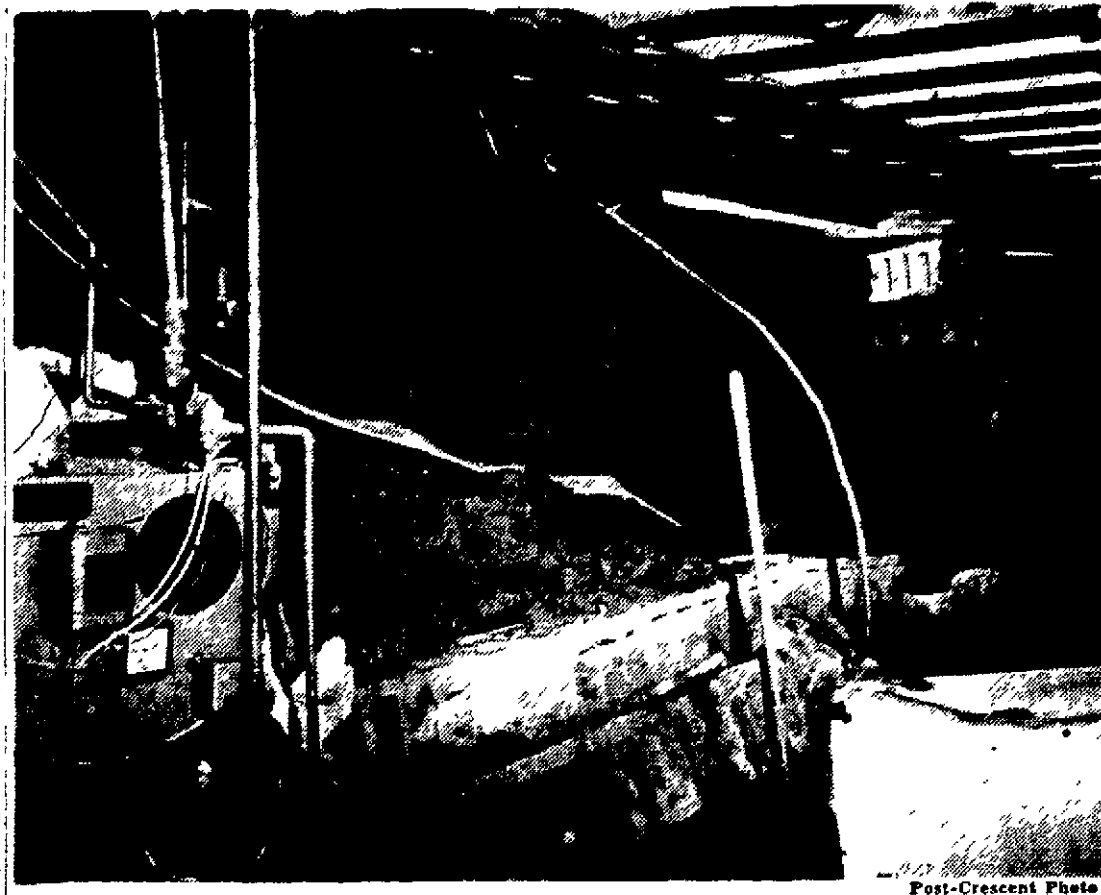

Man Complains When Auto Paint Goes With Campaign Sticker

Joe Rossmeliss, 920 W. Prospect avenue, says he doesn't mind if someone wants a presidential campaign sticker. It's the way it was taken off his car that bothers him. Rossmeliss told Appleton police the sticker was on his car when he parked it on the block of E. Lawrence street when he returned the only treatment known for a sticker was gone. So was the paint under it—down to bare metal.

Appleton Construction Firm Trucks Bombed in Illinois

Mysterious dynamite explosions at 5 a.m. Sunday demolished one truck and severely damaged another owned by Mullen Construction company, Appleton, while parked near a job site at Rosiclare, Ill. No one was injured.

Richard Mullen, president of the firm, said today he

Not All the Signs of spring are as cheerful as the sight of the robin or budding trees. Take this one, for instance, at the home of Raymond Brock, 1231 E. Hanson street. His basement wall caved in Sunday. The house is in the final stages of construction. The house is on a hillside and runoff water from the first thaw apparently built up too much pressure and collapsed the wall.

Blood Derivatives Used In State Valued at $132,512

Blood derivatives totaling an estimated $132,512 in value last year were distributed without charge in Wisconsin by the Red Cross, according to Vernon W. Thomson, Madison, national fund vice chairman for the state. He said 22,568 units of the three major derivatives were distributed for medical use.

Three Derivatives
Gamma globulin, most widely used of the derivatives, is allocated to state health departments. Serum albumen and fibrinogen are distributed to hospitals and physicians through the Red Cross blood centers in each state.

In Wisconsin, 31,646 units of gamma globulin have been allocated during the last year. At commercial rates, of $4 per two cc. unit, the value of this supply would be $126,584. It is widely used in modifying or preventing measles and hepatitis, and is the only treatment known for the blood deficiency termed gamma globulinemia, in which the body fails to pro-

North Central Has 41 Per Cent Hike in Revenue

North Central airlines reports record 1959 gross revenues of $18,501,121, a 41 per cent increase over 1958. Hal N. Carr, president, attributes the airline's advancement to addition of over 2,000 route miles and the addition of radar-equipped, 44-passenger Convair 440 aircraft to the airline's fleet.

North Central offered the public nearly 350 million seat miles, a 35 per cent increase over 1958. A record 957,751 revenue passengers were boarded, 23 per cent more than the previous year.

Pounds of mail carried on Northern flights reached 4,856,740.

Air freight service was inaugurated by North Central June 1, 1959, and by the end of the year volume totaled 2,112,294 pounds.

The airline's route system has more than doubled since 1954, today standing at 5,366 miles. Applications pending before the civil aeronautics board would add another 3,442 miles, including service to three Canadian provinces.

Joseph Pruchnoffski Succumbs at 92

Joseph Pruchnoffski, 92, of 718 S. Mason street, died at 6:30 p.m. Sunday after a short illness.

He was born in Germany on Aug. 1, 1867. For 70 years he lived in Menasha, where he was janitor at St. Mary Catholic school. He moved to Appleton 16 years ago.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Joseph Catholic church, Appleton, with burial in St. Mary cemetery, Menasha. Friends may call after 2 p.m. Tuesday at Bretschneider Funeral home, where the rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Funds Asked for Cancer Center

$2 Million Sought For Laboratory at UW Next Year

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Funds for construction of a new $2 million cancer research center at the University of Wisconsin have been included in the house appropriations bill for the fiscal year 1961 for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield Republican, announced Friday.

A member of the appropriations subcommittee, Laird said funds for the new building at Madison were provided for in his amendment earmarking $5 million for emergency construction of facilities for cancer research.

The estimated $2 million allocated to the university for cancer research under the supervision of the National Institutes of Health will cover the entire cost of the structure, Laird said. Therefore the university will not be required to raise funds to "match" this amount.

cidentally fired and struck him in the mouth.

The bullet, according to his attending physician, split his lower lip, creased a tooth, went under the tongue and struck a bone in the back of his neck, splintering both the bone and the bullet.

Dr. H. C. Schmallerberg said the bullet, which is lodged in the youth's neck, missed all of the vital arteries and other organs which could have made it a fatal wound. He called it "a 1000 to 1 shot."

The doctor said the youth complained of pain in the right arm and chest Sunday. He said there may be further complications.

The shooting took place at the rural home of their mother, Mrs. Beatrice Peotter, Sheriff Abrahamson said.

The boy was rushed to the New London hospital by the Booth ambulance of Manawa.

Khrushchev Has Major Advantage

Can Talk as He Pleases While Western Leaders are Limited

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — Some chilling second thoughts are running through Washington now about President Eisenhower's fateful decision to open the way for Nikita Khrushchev's free-wheeling propaganda tours through the allied west.

Great risks from the start were involved in Mr. Eisenhower's reluctant agreement to follow Britain's lead in negotiating under neon lights with Khrushchev at — and before — the coming May summit meeting. These risks are now becoming plainer and plainer.

For once we abandoned the old careful diplomacy, through which professionals worked in private to reach limited but solid agreements, we gave a great propaganda weapon to Nikita Khrushchev. Having at home or abroad no critic to check him, he is able to appeal above the heads of western governments to all that is uninformed and sentimentally "hopeful" among their peoples.

Another Truth

He is the beneficiary of a priceless boon — he can be as irresponsible and demagogic as he pleases. The western leaders cannot.

This is what he is doing in his visit to France. He is again scoring victories, this time over the lawful head of France, Charles de Gaulle.

Here is the chief of international communism openly and with unexampled impudence "receiving" in the heart of France calls from so-called Frenchmen who are openly in the service not of France but of the Soviet Union.

Another truth is not spoken out loud here by anybody who wants to win a popularity contest. It is this: The White House itself is increasingly defensive about the obvious fact that the president is going to the summit with little real possibility of controlling its docket of business and even less hope of accomplishing anything much in our interest.

This is essentially what has just been acknowledged to the senate by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, whose Bostonian Yankee candor is a part of his character.

Senators Alarmed

And White House sensitivity has been plainly shown by the belligerent attitude of the president's press secretary, James Hagerty. Hagerty has used the words "a lot of nonsense" to try to destroy the interpretation put upon Herter's senate testimony by senators who actually heard him, as Hagerty did not.

These senators, men like Albert Gore of Tennessee, are not blind, stubborn advocates of "rigidity." On the contrary, they have supported the principle of negotiation with the Soviet Union. But they are alarmed at how far the administration has carried "flexibility."

In the small and literal sense we are, perhaps, not going "unprepared" to the summit. That is, three special state department committees are at work on this and that. But 30 such committees could not alter the basic truth already publicly stated by Herter: "One doesn't know what actually will be discussed. We have no formal agenda."

The less control there is over what Khrushchev is allowed to bring up the more opportunity for him to use the meeting just as he has used his visit abroad: As a sounding board for every harangue, relevant or not, he may wish to make. Can't our leaders use it that way, too? In theory, yes. But the crucial difference is that our men have got to talk responsibly. Khrushchev can talk just as he pleases, heedless of the long tradition of reasonable conduct that will limit the western leaders from first to last.

2 Men Injured in Auto-Truck Crash

New London — Two men were injured about 8:20 a.m. Saturday in a car-truck collision on Highway 45 about four miles north of Highway 54.

Ray Konrad, 31, Bear Creek, suffered chest and right arm injuries and Herb Schwan, 60, 1314 S. Pearl street, suffered chest and back injuries. Both were taken to the New London Community hospital where they were treated and released.

Konrad was driving south in his car and Schwan was going north and turning left into the former Frank Heideman farm to make an oil delivery when the vehicles collided, Waupaca county police said.

To Your Good Health Too Much Food, Not Surgery Causes Post-Operative Gain

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a little over 50. My gall bladder was removed almost two years ago. I was overweight before, and am still putting on too many pounds. Is the surgery partly to blame?" — Mrs. J.M."

To day's question happens to refer to a gall bladder operation. It might equally well refer to almost any other that we ordinarily encounter, whether hysterectomy, re-normal daily activity to a marked degree. (Lots of others don't.) Some, consciously or otherwise, use the operation as an excuse for "taking a good long rest." Some are anxiously afraid that the incision will be a weak place and may give way under strain. This is because they do not understand the strength of the sutures, and the speed with which a clean surgical incision heals strongly.

Waist Line Bulge

And another thing. In the natural course of events, most of us have our operations in middle life or later. As we leave the years of our most vigorous youth, and slow down, we simply do not need as much food, because we don't burn up as much in energy.

A good many of us are lucky and our appetites subside just enough to keep us in balance. But it's mighty easy for a lot of us—most of us, I dare say—to let our taste buds take advantage of our waist lines.

Mrs. J.M.'s letter reveals that she is fiftyish. She was having weight trouble before her operation. She also (I left this out of her letter) has some arthritis, which reduces her physical activity.

No, removal of the gall bladder isn't "causing" her to put on weight. Other factors are to blame. A diet of 1,000 to 1,200 calories a day (depending on height and bone structure and general type of build) may very well be ample for her. Suspecting that the operation is the cause of her trouble will only deceive her, and prevent her from getting rid of the unwanted pounds.

Not Harmful

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a rheumatic heart. Once a year my doctor X-rays me and takes an electrocardiogram. For two years he has had me fluoroscoped. Could this produce any harmful effects?" — Mrs. M."

No. While we are right in being watchful concerning radiation as we move on into the atomic age, a good rule is this: Don't be afraid of the small amount of radiation required for any necessary X-ray or fluoroscopic examinations.

Don't Worry

S.F.W.: I see your point, but you are worrying without cause. Elastic hosiery does not "cut off" circulation, because it does not exert pressure at a single point. The pressure is spread evenly over the whole surface of the leg. It prevents excessive expansion of a vein (or veins) that may be weak. It does not create a point at which the vein is unduly narrowed.

Women Curlers Have Long History in Area

Mrs. J. B. Williams, Mrs. Richard Zwickey, Neenah, Mrs. Ray Fallon and Mrs. Carl Nebel, Menasha, relax after completing eight ends of curling in the mixed bonspiel this weekend. The new club house provides room for relaxation after finishing a rugged turn on the ice.

BY KATHY REARDON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"Sweep, Sweep" is a familiar cry to the women curlers whose good friend is a broom.

About 40 Fox Cities women are members of the Tam O' Shanter club who have a weekly curling rendezvous at the new Appleton Curling club. The group meets every Wednesday for a luncheon and Thursdays are devoted to curling. Mixed curling is on the agenda for Sundays, followed by a supper.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday the women participated in a mixed bonspiel with their husbands.

One of the five charter member clubs of the United States Women's Curling association, the Tam O' Shanter club was organized as the first women's curling group in the valley by a small group of sports-minded women on August 13, 1945.

The club had its share of headaches in the early stages in getting enough members to make the game interesting and worthwhile.

In 1954, the Tam O' Shanter club held the first Wisconsin women's invitational bonspiel. Since that time, the state women's bonspiel, known as the "Badger Bonspiel," has become an annual event, with various clubs

"Sweep, Sweep" and "Ice" are familiar cries of the curlers as they direct the 42-pound stone down the ice to the coveted place in the center of the circle. Sweeping the ice in front of the rolling stone increases the distance the rock will travel.

A Dinner at Club Terrace Saturday evening was a highlight of the mixed bonspiel held by the Appleton Curling club this weekend. From left are Mrs. D. C. Evans, Edward Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wirth, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Schulenburg, Miss Mary Fisch, Menasha, and Daniel Steinberg, Jr.

playing host. An invitational bonspiel will be held Thursday and Friday with the Appleton club entertaining eight visiting groups.

Rinks from Wausau, Clintonville, Green Bay, Portage, Waupaca, Arlington, Madison and Wauwatosa are expected to attend.

The Appleton Curling club dates back to 1939, when two sheets of ice were flooded on the tennis court in Pierce park. Too much sun, too much snow and too little experience, however, led to an uneventful season.

In 1940 a concrete-block chicken house was rented outside the city. A vacant lot was flooded in 1943 for the curling season and during 1944-45 a building was constructed at Pierce park.

Completion of the building was an important milestone in the club's history. In January, 1946, the first annual invitational bonspiel was held. Rinks from 11 Wisconsin and Illinois clubs participated.

New Home

On Jan. 18, 1960, the curlers moved into their new home, a spacious building outside the city on W. College avenue. The new edifice includes a gallery for visitors, a kitchen and recreation area.

The game got its name from the way the 42 pound stone goes down the ice. When it is delivered, it is given a turn to either the right or left, causing it to "curl" down the ice and then curve sharply in the desired direction.

The in-turn sends the stone to the right and the out-turn directs it to the left. Sweeping in front of the stone adds to its travel distance.

The game is played on a sheet of ice 138 feet long and 14 feet wide. Four men compose a "rink" or team, and the positions, according to when stones are played, are termed lead, second, third and skip.

Each man plays two curling stones in each of the 10 "ends" or innings of the game, alternating with the man playing the same position on the opposing rink. The skip captains the rink, directing the play, planning the shots and playing the final shots himself.

For the lead playing first, any stone front and center is a good rock as it will bother the opposition. The lead on the other team may be asked to knock out the stone previously played or play his stone into the circles. The skip's shots are the most difficult and are made when the situation is most tense.

Purpose of the game is to slide the granite stone to the circle at the far end of the ice sheet with just the right speed so the stone will come to rest as close to the center of the circles as possible.

Each player has a specific task. The entire strategy of the end is worked around the lead rock. The second guards these stones or removes those of an opponent and the third may function in breaking up a combination of opposing rocks.

Points are scored for a team according to the number of stones it has in the circles nearer to the center than any stones of the opposing team.

The local club begins playing in mid-November and usually winds up activities about April 1.

Tam O'Shanter officers for the 1959-60 season are Mrs. L. R. Penner, Menasha, president; Mrs. Frank Farver, Neenah, vice president; Mrs. William Herriott, Neenah, treasurer; and Mrs. Bruce Pickett, Neenah, secretary.

Your Problems English Professor Questions Habit of Profane Speaking

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I don't commonly bandy words with lady columnists but when you get into my field which is the use of words, I must speak out. I am emeritus professor of English at a university.

Your statement that people who use profanity have bankrupt vocabularies is incorrect. I used to have a crazy professor who also asserted this ancient libel but he was wrong — as you are. I swear passionately and eloquently. I've written 23 books and over 1,000 short stories. I have an oral vocabulary of 5,000 words, a written vocabulary of 10,000. My reading vocabulary exceeds 20,000.

The use of profanity is a linguistic psychological habit. There is no correlation between cussing and ideas or vocabulary. I have a colleague whose strongest epithet is "Dear Dear" and if he ever had an original idea it would paralyze him. Thank you for allowing me to have my say. — H.H.K.

DEAR PROFESSOR: I hate to argue with an authority — but my speech experts tell me that:

(1) profanity often reflects a stunted vocabulary

(2) sometimes points to laziness in speech habits and/or

(3) is frequently a device to create attention or emphasize a point.

And now from the University of Chicago I get the following from Prof. Seldon Garver (and this, my friend, may well stab you right in the magna cum laude!):

The Hartmann study into undergraduate vocabulary achievement reveals that the average level of undergraduate comprehension is 200,000 words.

I sincerely hope the zero on your typewriter is broken. But thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN: I need your advice right away. I'm half add to them to the greens with out of my mind. I just found

Residents to Appear In Choral Program

Four local residents will share the platform with three professional soloists when the Lawrence college choral society performs Arthur Honegger's oratorio "King David" at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in the Memorial chapel.

Narrators of the Biblical work will be Kenneth Anderson, Neenah, and Joan Hoffmann, Appleton. Anderson, a Lawrence alumnus, is in his fifth year of teaching at Neenah High school and has spent two seasons directing the Riverside Players for the Neenah recreation department. Mrs. Hoffman has been active in Attic theater productions such as "Solid Gold Cadillac," "Chalk Garden," and "Elizabeth the Queen," and has performed for the Winnebago Players. A former Lawrence and Mt. Mary college student, she frequently reviews current plays for club groups throughout Wisconsin.

The professional soloists will be Evelyn Reynolds, contralto, Lawrence Lane, tenor, and Mary Ludeman, soprano, all from the Chicago area. Miss Reynolds and Lane performed in the Lawrence college production of the "Messiah" last December. The contralto recently has appeared in several performances of Bach's "B Minor Mass," with the Augustana, Ill., choir, as well as in Verdi's "Requiem" and the Chicago Lyric opera production of "Jenufa".

All three soloists are performing in another "King David" program at Wheaton college this month.

Two Appleton youths, members of St. Joseph Catholic church boys' choir, will divide the soprano role of young David. They are Jack Barta, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barta, 622 N. Division street; and Michael Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Morris, 526 W. Sixth street.

Student Accompaniment
Instrumental accompaniment for the symphonic psalm will be provided by Enid Skripka, Milwaukee, petite flute; Judith Bell, Janesville, grande flute; Phyllis Singletary, Beloit, oboe; Karen Beck, Lomira, Celeste; Jean Jepson, Nekoosa, English horn; Donald Niemi, Watertown, and Stanley Smith, Fond du Lac, clarinets; Nancy Sullivan, Oshkosh, bassoon; Lawrence Strieby, 616 E. Circle street, French horn; Wayne Wirth, Sheboygan, and William Melin, Crystal Lake, Ill., trumpets; James Matern, Menasha, trombone; Kenneth Mueller, West Allis, Ann Clark, Oconomowoc, and Judith Goodrich, Wilmette, Ill., percussion; Laurine Zautner, West Bend, piano; Ronald Sindelar, Manitowoc, contra bass; and Daniel Smith, conservatory faculty member, organ.

Tickets for the performance, directed by LaVahn Maesch, are available at Bellings pharmacy.

In Good Taste Money Gift Best From Relatives

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I and our teenage daughter have been invited to a large wedding dinner at a rather swank hotel. We intend to give the bride and groom a wedding check. My husband insists that we have to give an amount that will at least cover the cost of our dinners. He says that to give anything less would be very "cheap." I have never heard of this before and would very much like to know if he is right about this.

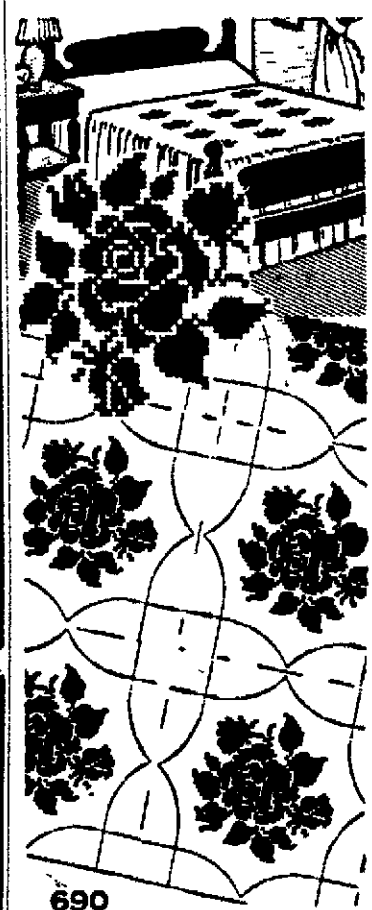

Answer: Checks are usually given to a bride only by close relatives, and in no case are they ever based on the cost of the wedding dinners.

Restaurant Dining
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the mechanical details of behavior to follow when dining in a smart restaurant with a young man?

Answer: The rules of behavior are very simple. The man and girl both stand near the door until the head waiter (or waitress) shows them to a table. The girl follows the waiter and takes the chair that he holds for her. A menu is always handed to each and the man asks the girl what she will have, and when she tells him what she would like, he then orders for them both.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-1, entitled "Announcing the Engagement," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P. care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Dinner Conversations Follow Definite Patterns

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.

"Dad, did you ever hear of a guy called Montezuma?" asked 12-year-old Ted as he slipped into his seat at dinner.
"You mean the emperor of the Aztecs," said Dad. "Yes, I've heard of him. What do you know about him?"
"Miss Sorbee said he was a very evil guy who sacrificed human beings."
"What's sacrificed mean?" piped up 8-year-old Alice.
"It means killed," said Mother. "We don't think it right to kill anyone but in long ago times some religions felt that their gods were pleased when a community gave one of its citizen to them."
"You know, Dad," went on Ted, "Cortez went into Mexico and killed a lot of Mexicans—doesn't strike me that was right either."
"Maybe not, but that's what happens when one country conquers another."

Interesting Talk
And so the conversation went. Dad said there was a book in the other room about the Aztecs—they'd get it out after dinner.

Almost every night in the Waverly household, dinner table talk was interesting. Somebody had something on his mind he wanted to tell the family. Often it had to do with something at school or something in the newspaper. Sometimes Dad had an experience at the office or had heard a good joke which he saved up for dinner time.

The Waverlys didn't have any real trouble with their children. It was a good family circle. They did a great deal of talking and most of the time the talk was fun.

The Restons talked a lot, too, but the general tenor of their conversation was griping. Dad told about the unfair, mean ways of his boss. Mother related how some woman in the supermarket tried to get ahead of her in line, or how her sister Sue was ruining her children.

The Reston children chimed in with tidbits about old lady sourface and her silly inquiries at school. Mom and Dad criticized the world, so the children, taking this pattern from their elders, gave vent to similar belittlement of their associates. This is not an atmosphere in which children will grow in popularity, either with their peers or their elders.

The Burns family, on the other hand, hardly talked at all at the dinner table. An occasional grunt which meant either yes or no and occasionally "please pass the bread" was about all that went on. Food was gulped down and the family left the table as soon as possible.

Definite Patterns
A recent study of family dinner table conversation by a University of Pennsylvania researcher showed that there were definite patterns and that each family pretty much repeated its own behavior over and over again.

Take a careful look and listen at your own dinner table. What sort of attitude toward life are you giving your children?

If you don't think too much of your own performance, set about to improve it. Get hold of a paperback book of jokes or short stories. Use them to get things going. Encourage the children to bring up interesting topics. If you don't know anything about a topic, let the children talk. Go read some of their textbooks and maybe some of the outside reading suggested to them.

Play a game at the table once in a while: "I'm thinking of something round and soft that begins with B."

Perk up your dinner table talk and watch you children improve.

A Lovelier You By Mary Sue Miller

Beauty and the Brow

A woman can never neglect her eyebrows and fulfill her loveliness potential. Unkept, the brows cause the entire face to look untidy. Faulty in growth or color, they detract from the eyes.

Keeping the brows groomed is easy. Plenty of brushing turns the trick. But overcoming defects requires a bit more effort and some skill. Solutions to the most common problems follow:

Use a hair stick or mustache wax to tame bushy brows. Apply it lightly and then brush.

Sparse, straggly brows appear fuller after a deft application of eyebrow pencil. In applying pencil, make your strokes short and feathery; work upward and outward, following the direction of growth. Never draw a hard, continuous line.

To darken blond brows, use brown mascara. Whisk it onto each strand with damp brush, being careful not to smudge the skin. After an application dries, groom the brows with a clean, dry brush.

Charcoal mascara tints white brows in a most natural-looking fashion.

Reddish brows improve with a touch of very light brown mascara.

Facial flaws both large and small can be repaired by make-up. How to give the illusion of perfection to imperfect features is detailed in my leaflet, "Make-up Make - Believe." To obtain a copy, write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin. (Copyright, 1960)

Husbands Prefer Living Room Only

Should a home have both a formal living room and a family room?

This question raised at the Family Conference on Housing at the National Housing center in Washington last fall, touched off lively debate. Generally, husbands were more inclined than their wives to favor only a living room.

One husband, said he was glad that husbands and wives were seated at different round tables because he wouldn't want his wife to hear what he had to say. He complained that women were over-zealous about keeping the living room clean and "an object of beauty to behold."

"I go into many homes so many times," he said, "and I'm actually afraid to sit down in the living room because it looks so nice and neat. My wife likes this. I say we bought

Clues to Buried Treasure

BY CHARLES M. CROWE

"The word of the Spirit, which is the word of God."
—Ephesians 6:17

The Bible has led to amazing discoveries in the Holy land. Geologists were encouraged by the passage which spoke of Jacob going to a land where he could "suck oil out of the flinty rock," and the one which told of fire licking up the water in the trench. This led to the discovery of oil wells in modern Israel. Also, archeologists were struck by the passage which spoke of stones as iron, and hills from which brass could be dug. This led to the recent discovery, near the Gaza strip, of the still rich copper mines which had made King Solomon wealthy 3,000 years ago.

To be sure, the use of the Bible as a geological guidebook is extremely limited. This was never its purpose. However, in a very real sense, the Bible directs us to the rich mines and deep wells of divine faith, hope and love.

These are found in its message of a sovereign God of love and mercy, as revealed by Jesus Christ, and of the worth and dignity of human personality. We may not find oil wells and copper mines by studying the Bible. But in its pages we will discover the eternal springs of salvation from sin and power for living that come to those who love

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Controlled Light for Windowless Corner

A sound plan for any room design includes the lighting, right from the start. Nowhere is this more important than for the family room or recreation room in a basement, which risks gloom in the daytime because windows are too few, too small and too high.

Here's a windowless downstairs corner that will always be exactly as light as it's asked to be. C. Eugene Stephenson, F.A.I.D., designed it with wall-long brackets that build in light to shine both up and down and a pull-down fixture, both regulated by a control system. The light controls step up brightness to compensate for outdoor gloom, decrease it for a sunnier day and produce any light effect that's wanted for evenings.

The 2-direction light at the stairs brightens and dims the same way. Wood-paneled walls contrast with white-washed brick. Stripping on the sofa repeats the red of cushions on the raised hearth and the blue-green of the tiled floor.

Mrs. J.C. "I'd like orchid for the walls of my parlor, but need professional advice on whether or not the orchid would go with a pink sofa, two aqua side chairs, blond tables, black wall accessories and a light cocoa brown rug. I would also like to know what color the pillows and draperies should be, and if a dark wood cornice would be in good taste with the light furniture."

Three feminine pastels are usually too many for a living room, even where they do less taking over than they would if your walls were orchid. And the pastel harmony will probably make the rug look the wrong color, and a false note in the scheme. Some orchid might be used for the walls if it were in a sophisticated neutral that blended or chided into brown tones, but a more easily found color is a slightly lighter shade of the rug color, which would hold the scheme together. The draperies might be lightly patterned in shades of brown on a pale beige that's a tint of the wall color, with or without small touches of pink or aqua or both, and pillows might be deep cocoa. A dark cornice might be used with light furniture if the dark brown were repeated sufficiently elsewhere, but it isn't needed.

Bride's Regret

Snapshots are not enough. Avoid regrets. Hire a professional photographer (Pechman Portraits of course) to adequately record the beauty of your wedding day. 20 years from now you'll be glad you did.

both a family room and a living room.

"My living room now looks like a family room," she said wryly. "When somebody rings the doorbell, I start grabbing toys and trying to straighten out the room, because it is always a mess and I am embarrassed."

A New Jersey housewife said she would "settle for a smaller living room in order to have a family room."

Teens Offer Views

Teen-agers, who had a table of their own, were also in disagreement on the matter. A girl said:

"I know that my mother and father would love — just absolutely adore having a family room. They like to be around the kids, but every minute of every day it gets, well, it drives them crazy. "I know if the kids and adults are in the living room, you can't have anything real nice with a whole lot of kids running around. They break things and they are always wanting to make peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, and you can't take those into the living room. You could have them (the sandwiches) in the family room."

A boy took the opposite view.

"I don't like the idea of dividing the children and adults. I mean, that is half the reason people have children, to be with them. I think that if they want the children to be separated, they can send them to their rooms. But I don't think they should have separate areas unless you have a lot of children. I'm the only child and maybe that's why I feel that way about it."

Another boy disagreed, saying "I think there should be a separate family room because, well, for one thing, the children don't want to do the same thing that the parents do. Like whenever the parents have company, all they do is talk, and from experience I don't like to hear a bunch of adults talk about something that I don't want to hear."

But the boy who is an only child capped the argument by declaring that parents should consider it a part of their job to be "around the children as much as possible." He added that, after all, the children "are only going to be around them for about 19 years."

Doubling High Bid Often Costly

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"Please say a few words about the free double," requests a reader. "My husband likes to double the opponents at high contracts whether he can beat them or not. He says that he isn't doubling them into game, so his doubles are free."

"Here is a double he perpetrated last night: Declarer ruffed the opening spade lead, led a trump to dummy's seven, and finished the queen of diamonds. He next cashed the ace of diamonds, led a trump to dummy's queen, and ruffed a diamond.

"South then led a club to dummy's ace and discarded two clubs on the good diamonds. He took all 13 tricks, scoring 800 below the line and zillions above the line, including 400 points for extra tricks.

"According to my calculations, this double cost 540 points. Is this what experts call a free double?"

No, ma'am. Experts have many words for this kind of double, but "free" isn't one of them. In fact, a recent survey showed that this kind of double cost the bachelors of the United States more than $7 million in 1959. (Married men were too smart to answer the questionnaire.)

Bad Risk

It's a bad risk to double a high contract just on general principles. If the double succeeds, you score 200 points instead of the normal penalty of 100 points. All you gain is 100 points. If the double goes sour, you usually lose more than twice as much. In this case, East lost five times as much as he stood to gain.

It may be sensible to take the short end of the odds when you're sure of what you're doing, but not when you're backed only by a vague hope. Doubling a high contract may win or lose a

Legislative Unit Gets Look at Result of Abandoned Dams

Sees Wastelands Through Upper, Central Sections of Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A sobering picture of wastelands throughout central and upper Wisconsin becomes increasingly less economical.

Destroy Enterprises
The problem currently is illustrated by the profound concern of the villages of Somerset, on the Apple river in St. Croix county, about the proposed abandonment of a big power dam in their community that has been operated for many years by the Northern States Power company.

The elimination of the dam and the water flowage behind it will destroy local commercial enterprises including resorts and night clubs, lower the water table for farm water supplies in the neighborhood and ruin the private investments of numerous riparian owners, according to testimony before the legislative group.

Warren P. Knowles of New Richmond, the former lieutenant governor, speaking as counsel for the village, demanded that the legislature write "ground rules" to specify the rights of riparians on artificial flowages and the responsibilities of the dam owners who create such dams under permit of the public service commission.

Discussions before the committee showed some disagreement about the meaning of present laws on the subject. While it appeared that the law requires a power company or other franchised business to get permission from the state agency for an abandonment of a dam, there apparently are no standards by which the commission is required to judge such proposals.

Can Appeal

R. J. Sutherland, counsel for the big Wisconsin Power and Light company which is abandoning many of its dams but maintains 22 of them in service in south central Wisconsin, asserted that riparians and others who are damaged in such cases can appeal to the courts for redress. But when challenged by Knowles he said he knew of no court cases sustaining that opinion.

Hydro-electric power resources of the state were once counted among its basic assets. But with improvements in the efficiency of coal gen-

Dutch Elm Week Set

Today Start of Observance to Call Attention to Disease

Gov. Gaylord Nelson has issued a proclamation setting this week as "Dutch Elm Disease Prevention Week."

The proclamation was issued, Nelson said "in order to call the attention of the citizens of Wisconsin to the importance and need for individual and community effort in destroying elm wood capable of becoming beetle breeding material."

Such a concentrated effort to clean up dead and weakened elm trees and elm wood with a supplemental program of spraying will save most of our beautiful elms, Nelson added.

According to Wisconsin department of agriculture officials, 1960 will be the fifth year that Dutch elm disease threatens our elms. Much has already been accomplished to check the spread but more remains to be done.

Since 1956 when the disease was first noted in Wisconsin, 63 cases were reported in 14 Wisconsin communities. The number of cases mounted in each succeeding year reaching 3,580 in 1959. The number of communities affected jumped to 152. In 1959, five new counties reported the disease — Fond du Lac, Winnebago, Columbia, Dodge and Lafayette.

Although four years is too short a time to cite with certainty the effectiveness of control programs, according to state department of agriculture officials, it can be stated without reservations that the majority of cases found in 1959 were in non-sprayed trees or in areas where little if any control work has been carried on.

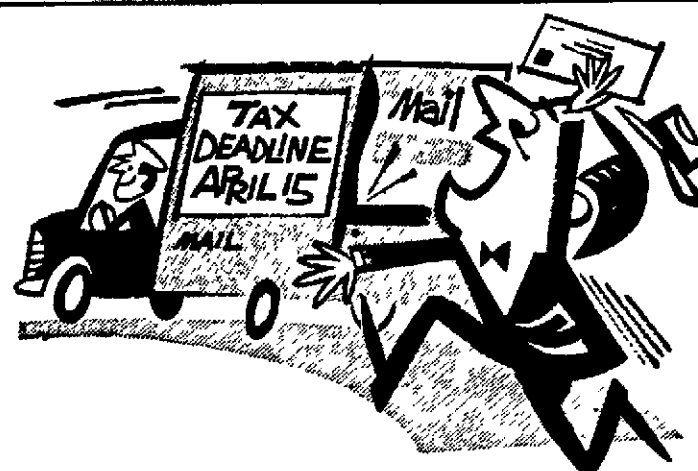

In the opinion of those fighting the inroads of Dutch elm disease, communities and individuals face tremendous loss and expense if no organized attempt is made to control the disease. With well-planned efforts, losses can be held to a low figure. It was pointed out that control programs are economically sound and that it costs less to protect and save elms than to remove and replant them.

Obsolete Dams

The arguments before the committee boiled down to the assertion that it won't be fair or feasible to charge to the utility rate - payers indefinitely the cost of maintaining obsolete dams, but that it will be unfair also to numerous riparians to permit them to deteriorate with resulting changes of established water levels.

The issue is likely to be resolved into proposals for some form of public maintenance of the more critically important impoundments, which is today prohibited under the state constitution which forbids undertaking of works of internal improvement by the state government.

LeRoy tied the rope about himself and held onto the ice. By that time, police and firemen arrived. Lt. Roy VerHoven of the fire department led, placing a ladder along the ice within LeRoy's grasp. LeRoy held on while firemen pulled the ladder.

Some other fishing companions of LeRoy unsuccessfully tried to pull him from the lake. The scene was about 30 feet from shore at the foot of Lock street.

Former Mayor Files Litigation Aimed at Blocking Transaction With First National Bank

Oshkosh — "Unlawful conspiracy" and "clear abuse of discretion" on the part of city of Menasha and bank officials are charged in a court petition aimed at halting the city's recent transfer of the old Menasha High school site to the First National bank.

Defendants in the action filed by John R. Scanlon, former mayor, are the city of Menasha, Mayor R. G. DuCharme and City Clerk Ira H. Clough.

Scanlon's petition demands that Winnebago county circuit court declare the city council's resolution illegal and void was filed today by his attorney, L. O. Cooke of Neenah.

Sale of the 11 lots was approved by a 6-4 vote of the

City Attorney Cites Suit as 'Politically Inspired' Opposition

Menasha — The suit brought against the city by John R. Scanlon, former mayor, to halt the transfer of the old high school site to the First National bank, today was termed "politically inspired" by William R. Giese, Menasha city attorney.

Giese stated, "The law suit is another politically inspired move by the opposition to Mayor DuCharme, evidenced by the fact that the newspapers had copies of the complaint even before the city. John Scanlon has always opposed the fine progressive administration of Mayor DuCharme as it is a light in the darkness compared to his administration. 'Any charges as to conspiracy are malicious and completely false and without foundation. The results of the negotiations have always been publicly stated with full information being given to the aldermen and citizens.'" common council Feb. 16. Voting against were Alds. Louis Gammey, John Klein, Paul Laemmrich and Edward Stinski.

The bank secured the land for erection of a new bank building with Leo Croy, chairman of the board, declaring, "The whole aim is to accomplish at least part of the great need that Menasha businessmen have felt for many years — the improvement of the downtown shopping area, to induce local people to do their trading locally." The bank indicated efforts would be made to secure attractive new shops and stores to locate in the area, making it a shopping center.

Warns Purchaser

Scanlon asks the court to forbid the defendants from "executing and delivering said deed (for the park site) or purchasing said bank building and that said trade or exchange of real estate be declared null and void and of effect and for such other and further relief as may be equitable, with the costs of this action."

Cooke said the filing of the litigation serves notice on a prospective purchaser that he buys at his own risk of having no valid title. The city ... in the persons of DuCharme and Clough ... have 20 days in which to reply to the complaint. The officials are named in the action because they were empowered to close the deal.

Scanlon's opposition to the sale of the land and purchase of the bank building centers around seven major points:

Points 1. That the city and bank officials "have conspired together by unfair and unjust means to secure a trade or exchange of properties and not a sale and that said resolutions (by the council) are the result of unlawful conspiracy." The city was to sell the

At that time a New York Time critic wrote, "The choir produces an exceptionally smooth, pleasant - sound in tone, unmarred by screeching, always scrupulously musical. If there is a better college chorus in America, this listener has not heard it."

Ensemble An instrumental ensemble of six choir members and seven other Oberlin conservatory students will accompany the choir in a Bach cantata featured on the program, the Cantata No. 30, "Ein Feste Burg."

Each year the choir makes an extended spring tour, going east and west in alternate years. In recent years, the choir has been particularly active in radio, television and recording.

Litigation to Block Sale of Land on File

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 land for $57,000 and buy the bank building for $49,500, the two transactions tied in together in approved resolutions.

2. That market value of the 11 contiguous lots, totaling 2.5 acres, is considerably higher than the $57,000 to be paid for the parcel.

3. That "the First National bank building is practically worthless to the city of Menasha without extensive rewiring, replumbing, installation of adequate heating facilities and complete remodeling, all at great expense to the city."

4. That if the deal goes through, "it will necessarily deplete the assets of the city, abolish a playground area, increase the taxes of this plaintiff and all other taxpayers of Menasha and... deprive (them) of their money."

5. That neither appraisal nor inspection of the bank building was made before the transaction was approved by the council.

6. That the city planning commission, as required by the state statutes, never acted on the recommendations to sell the land and to buy the bank building before final council action.

7. That the council, "without adequate or responsible discussion, examination or appraisal... passed a resolution which was a clear abuse of discretion authorizing the sale of the lots... as formerly used as a high school site whereas in truth and fact for more than 20 years the premises have been used for playground and skating purposes." (The old high school burned to the ground in March 1936.)

Resolutions Copies Attached Attached to Scanlon's petition are copies of three council resolutions dealing with the sale of the land.

The first is a copy of the original intention to sell passed Feb. 2 by unanimous council vote.

The second is a copy of the Feb. 16 resolution authorizing sale of the 11 lots to the bank for $57,000 and earmarking $49,500 for the purchase of the bank building.

Third was the copy of the Feb. 16 resolution authorizing purchase by the city of the bank building at the $49,500 price.

K. C. Kimball, president of the First National bank, today had no comment on the litigation.

Milwaukee Suffers Third Straight Exhibition Loss

Lee Walls' Homer Wins For Reds

Tampa, Fla. —P— The Milwaukee Braves, losers of their last three games, turned today to left-hander Juan Pizarro in a bid to bolster their exhibition play record.

The Braves were matched at Bradenton against the Pittsburgh Pirates, winners of 11 in a row.

A home run by Lee Walls with two out in the ninth gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4-3 victory over Milwaukee Sunday.

Held to 6 Hits Righthander Jim Brosnan went all the way for the Reds, holding the Braves to six hits, including a home run by Joe Adcock in the fourth. The Braves now are 6-8 in the Reds 5-9.

Milwaukee was behind, 3-2, when the ninth inning started but singles by Adcock and Lee Maye, a sacrifice bunt by Johnny Logan and a sacrifice fly by Del Crandall tied the score.

After being held scoreless for 20 innings, the Braves got a run in the third off Brosnan when Bell Bruton and "Red" Schoendienst walked and Eddie Mathews singled. The Braves added a run on Adcock's 4-base blow in the fourth and then could do nothing until the ninth.

Bob Rush, the Braves' starting hurler got through the first two innings without trouble before the Reds landed on him for three runs, one of them unearned.

Frank House singled to open the Reds' third. He scored on Leo Cardenas' double. Rush got the next two men out but then walked Vada Pinson. Gus Bell singled in Cardenas and when Aaron let the ball roll past him, Pinson also counted.

The Reds got only five hits off Rush and rookies Ken McKenzie and Don Nottebart. Nottebart, who gave up the homer to Walls, was charged with the defeat.

Joe Taylor, Of Braves, Dies at 38

Bradenton, Fla. —P— Funeral services will be held in Brookfield, Wis., Thursday for Joe Taylor, 38, equipment manager of the Milwaukee Braves, who died of a heart attack Sunday. He is survived by his widow, Mary, and three children.

Taylor, a member of the Braves organization for 10 years, moved to Milwaukee with the team in 1953 and also has been sports director of Milwaukee radio station WRIT for the last four years. He was a native of the Allston district of Boston.

Taylor's body will be flown to Milwaukee where it will lie in state at the Becker Funeral home Wednesday. Services will be held at St. Dominic's Catholic church in Brookfield Thursday, with burial in Holy Cross cemetery, Milwaukee.

Named Track Host

Chicago —P— The University of Chicago will be host to the Mid-East regional NCAA track trials June 2. Among the states in the region are Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama.

New Blood Injected Yankees Still Smarting From Their Shocking Performance Last Season

BY JACK HAND St. Petersburg, Fla. —P— Perhaps the New York Yankee empire has crumbled. Perhaps "Casey" Stengel has had it. Perhaps — but don't bet on it.

The Yankees still are smarting from their shocking performance of last season. New blood has been injected by Roger Maris. Old familiar faces like Hank Bauer, Don Larsen and Norm Siebern have departed. If there was complacency a year ago, it vanished in the wake of a third-place finish. This is a bunch of well-heeled young men who were jolted out of the clouds last fall when their tidy little corporation failed to pay its usual World Series dividend.

"When Christmas came and this spring when the income tax came due, we didn't have to worry," said Manager Casey Stengel today. "I think we got some $800 for finishing third, instead of several thousand dollars. The players knew it. I think they'll put out."

Blame Themselves

Although the Yanks praised Chicago for its pennant victory last year, many of them blame themselves for losing it. They are working hard this spring to get back on the grave train.

"Can this club do any good?" Stengel asked himself. "That is a good question. Now I know (Bill) Skowron and (Elston) Howard are pretty good hitters. My pitching, I'll have to find out. I think we will hit better. The runs have got to come in pretty soon or we'll have to make some changes. Our team is going to have to make it with men who have played in the big league."

"We got Maris who drove in 75 runs (actually it was 72) for Kansas City and we've got (Hector) Lopez who drove in 93. Now (Mickey) Mantle knocked in a few runs (75) and he can drive in more."

Bill Skowron (.298) is a most important man. The big first baseman missed a good share of last season because of a broken wrist. Bobby Richardson (.301) has taken charge at second. Shortstop probably will belong to Tony Kubek (.279) with Gil McDougald (.251) or Andy Carey (.257) on third.

Maris (.273 at Kansas City) seems to be making the switch to left field without too much trouble although he still must prove he can do it at Yankee stadium. Mantle (.285) was slowed down by a holdout and a sore knee in his hopes for a fast start to erase memories of 1959. Lopez (.283) will be in right.

Few Games Yogi Berra (.284), after a few games at third, is ready to return to catching with help from Elston Howard (.273). Stengel would like to have both in the lineup at the same time and may juggle to do it.

Whitey Ford (16-10) has been hot in the spring games. Bob Turley (8-11), experimenting with a new delivery with men on base, has been so-so. Art Ditmar (13-9). Jim Coates (6-1) and probably rookie Bill Short (17-6 at Richmond) will be the other starters. Short and Ralph Terry (5-11) were late joining the club because of Army service.

Ryne Duren (3-6) appears to have bullpen help in rookie tie. (Weights unavailable).

Johnny James (8-6 at Richmond), the best looking young pitcher in camp.

Major Prize Winners in the annual Fisherman's party are shown with Chairman Jim Kranzusch. Mrs. Clara Johnson, route 2, Neenah, won a motor, while Philip Johnson (center), Appleton, won the boat. Mrs. Marie Feiereisen, route 2, Neenah, also was awarded a motor. The event, sponsored by the Outagamie Conservation club, drew a capacity crowd to the Appleton school auditorium Saturday night.

Baltimore's Dave Nicholson Hits Homer

By The Associated Press A minor baseball miracle is taking place at Fort Myers, Fla., where Diomedes Olivo, a 40-year-old rookie pitcher, is trying to earn a berth with Pittsburgh's Pirates.

Picked up from Poza Rica of the Mexican league, Olivo impressed again Sunday by pitching 1-hit ball for two innings in his exhibition debut as Pittsburgh blanked Washington, 4-0, for its eleventh consecutive victory.

Olivo compiled a 21-8 record in the double A Mexican circuit last season. He appeared in 35 games, completed 23 of 30 starts, worked 247 innings, struck out 233, walked only 61 and turned in a 3.02 earned run average.

May Spell Face Despite Olivo's age, Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh decided to take a look at the 6-foot-1, 195-pound native of the Dominican Republic. He may be just the man to spell relief specialist Roy Face. Olivo pitched creditably in most of his intrasquad workouts and showed a hopping fast ball in his first official Turn to Page 9, Col. 1

May Break Ground For New Washington Sports Arena by June

Congress Agrees on Appropriation, Last
Block Cleared; Cal Still Uncommitted

Washington — (AP) — Now that Congress is on their team, Washington stadium planners indicated today they expect to turn the first spadeful of government-owned dirt for their deluxe outdoor arena by June.

With no further hitches, they figure the stadium with its portable stands will be ready for the presidential pitch that opens the 1961 baseball season.

Such a construction pace would be unprecedented for Washington—and Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, still has not committed his club to play there. But the perfect view stadium, which over the years has been thrown for more losses than a tanglefooted halfback, certainly should be a reality for the '61 football season.

Congressional agreement on a 2½ million-dollar appropriation, complete except for the formalities, eliminated the last apparent block. Government-backed bonds will be issued for the 10 to 12 millions needed for construction, but the taxpayers' money was sought for additional costs of roads, parking facilities and landscaping.

Spectators' Delight

Designers have portrayed the stadium as an undiluted spectators' delight. The circular plant alongside Washington's National Guard armory two miles east of the Capitol will have a roof all around its double decks. It will hold 42,500 for baseball and 52,000 for football, all in separate seats with arm rests 20 inches apart to allow for fat men and winter overcoats.

Fans already have been told about the movable stands, a section of 7,000 seats which may be shuttled on wheels from behind the infield for baseball to sidelines for football.

Outside there will be space for 12,500 cars, 100 buses and 300 taxis. Inside, spectators will have no posts to obstruct their view.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Redskins, has come to terms. Stadium officials predict Griffith will come around, too.

Pirates Win 11th in Row outing for the Pirates, who haven't lost since dropping their first three games.

Other fine pitching performances were turned in Sunday by St. Louis' "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, who went nine innings and beat Detroit, 3-1, on a 5-hitter, and Cincinnati's Jim Brosnan, a 4-3 victor over Milwaukee with a 6-hit, 9-inning job.

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Philadelphia, 7-6; Baltimore defeated New York, 3-1; San Francisco beat Boston, 6-3; Kansas City nipped Los Angeles, 3-2; and Chicago's Cubs whipped Cleveland, 3-2.

The Cards won their eighth in the last nine games with Mizell duplicating Larry Jackson's route-going performance of Saturday — first of the spring. Stan Musial, knocked in the deciding run against the Tigers with a sixth-inning double.

Nicholson Homers

The White Sox won their fourth 1-run game when rookie J. C. Martin singled across the chuncher against the Phils in the eighth after Luis Aparicio tied it with a 2-run homer.

Jackie Brandt and rookies "Chuck" Staniland and Dave Nicholson hit homers for the Orioles while Arnold Portocarrero and Gordon Jones scattered seven Yankee hits.

"Bud" Daley and Ned Garver, who drove in one run and scored another for the Athletics, had the Dodgers shut out until the ninth. A single and three errors gave the world champions two runs but Maury Wills was cut down at the plate with the tying run.

Eddie Bressoud, and Orlando Cepeda homered, and Mike McCormick pitched 1-hit ball in a 3-inning workout for San Francisco.

Rookie Ron Santo, who drove in the first Cub run, also knocked in the tie-breaker in the ninth with a sacrifice fly to beat the Indians.

Musial Hikes Spring Bat Mark to .380

St. Petersburg, Fla. — (AP) — Stan Musial, hitting hard in his comeback bid with the Cardinals, today drew praise from St. Louis Manager Solly Hemus and Capt. Ken Boyer.

Musial, batting .380 with 13 RBIs in 29 trips, knocked down bulky Steve Bilko with a hot smash for a single and doubled home the tie-breaking run Sunday in a 3-1 victory over Detroit. The triumph was the Cards' fourth straight, eight in the last nine games and ninth in 13 starts.

"Stan is hitting the ball better than I've seen him do in five years and he's fielding better at first base than he did last spring," said Hemus.

Said Boyer, "Stan is hitting like he did in 1957—and what a year he had then."

Musial won his seventh batting title three years ago with a .351 average and, though he missed 20 games, he had 29 homers and 102 RBIs.

Believe 'Big O' Will Sign With Royals

Coach George Smith
Says Oscar Will Reject 'Trotters'

New York — (AP) — Oscar Robertson, the "Big O" of college basketball, will do his pro playing for a National Basketball association club, undoubtedly Cincinnati, rather than the Harlem Globetrotters.

That was the word today from George Smith, coach of the 3-time All-American who graduates from the University of Cincinnati this spring with a degree in business administration.

Oscar was not in a talkative mood regarding his future basketball plans after starring in a losing cause in the East's 67-66 victory over the West in the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund All-Star game Saturday.

Not Concerned

But Smith, who coached the Western team, said, "I think I know Oscar. He is not concerned with a fantastic salary as the Globetrotters figure to offer him. He wants a home, security and a chance to build a future. As you know he is getting married in June."

"He figures the Globetrotters wouldn't offer him all of that since the team is constantly on the go. With the NBA he'll be able to set up a home and possibly go into the business of selling real estate and insurance in the off season."

The Cincinnati Royals have first call on Robertson in the NBA as a territorial selection.

Oscar heads for Denver this week to try out for the U.S. Olympic team.

Spahn Looms As Starter For Opener

Bradenton, Fla. — (AP) — Warren Spahn probably will pitch the opening-day game for the Braves, after all.

The ace lefthander has drawn the assignment for the first game frequently in the past but Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen said recently that he might start Juan Pizarro, a young lefthander, in the home opener April 12.

Dressen said Sunday however, that "if it's a real cold day on the twelfth, I figure on going with Spahn—and he's pretty deserving of the honor, too."

Cold Day

And if the weather continues in Milwaukee as it has in the past it probably will be a cold day in that city April 12.

Dressen's reason for considering Pizarro beat Pittsburgh three times last year, twice with shutouts. The Braves open against Pittsburgh.

The Milwaukee manager also said he planned to experiment with all of his starters in relief roles with only two days of rest.

"I want to find out if they can give me a good inning or two in relief on short notice," he said. "That goes for Spahn as well. Now is the time to find out."

Long First Shot Putter To Exceed 64 Feet

Los Angeles — (AP) — A metal ball goes on the scales today to determine whether young giant Dallas Long is the first shot putter officially to break 64 feet.

The 260-pound University of Southern California sophomore got off a toss of 64 feet, 6½ inches in a dual meet Saturday with the Los Angeles Striders.

Right behind Long with a heave of 63-10½ was Dave Davis, a 260-pound ex-Trojan who was competing for the Striders.

Within a few minutes of each other, both men had shattered Parry O'Brien's recognized world record of 63-2.

Officials said they saw no reason why the toss of 19-year-old Long will not be accepted. The shot was the same one which weighed one ounce more than the required 16 pounds when Long threw it 63-7 two weeks ago. The weighing today was to be done by the city department of weights and measures.

When Davis saw officials measure out his mighty heave, he leaped for joy and shouted:

"It's a new world record—but I can do better."

But Long, by contrast, left the ring immediately after his throw a few moments later and sat on the grass, head down, hands over his face, concentrating on his next toss.

Long showed no emotion when the distance was announced, but he finally stood up, grinning, to accept congratulations.

Celtics Race to Record Triumph

Whip Hawks, 140-122, in First Game of Final Playoff Series

BY BOB HOOBING

Boston — (AP) — The hot-handed Boston Celtics have caught St. Louis in the middle of a style adjustment to get the jump in the National Basketball association championship playoff series which both clubs figure is going to get much tougher.

Boston romped to a 140-122 which produced nine records, including most points in a game by one team and two in a title playoff contest.

"It was just one of those days," shrugged happy Celtic Coach "Red" Auerbach who agreed with the Hawks' Ed Macauley that the best-of-7 struggle is far from over.

"We couldn't do anything wrong," Auerbach continued. "You don't beat these guys that easily very often."

Had to Travel

"Tuesday's second game is the big one," Macauley said. "The fact that we had to travel after playing Minneapolis Saturday and that the Lakers are not a running club like Boston played a part in the outcome."

"What a change in style of play for us," said a tired St. Green in the Hawks' dressing room. "In a way I'm glad Boston scored so well and kept up the pace as long as they were winning. It helps us adjust to their fast game."

Minneapolis is much more deliberate and I didn't realize just how different the Celtics play until I got out there today."

"I hated to beat them so badly," commented Bill Sharman of the Celtics who got 23 points while Tom Heinsohn had 2. Frank Ramsey 21 and Bob Cousy 20 in the balanced Boston attack. "We caught them when they were tired. They'll get tougher. When we got hot like that we tend to think we can do it any time and it isn't so."

Cousy was the man who released the torrent of Boston points in the first 4½ minutes of the second period the veteran backcourt wizard directed an outburst which sent the Celtics from a 30-25 lead out to a commanding 47-30 margin. In that span Cousy scored two baskets, assisted on four more, stole the ball three times and intercepted a pass.

Sneed Annexes 104th Crown

Wins DeSoto
Tourney With
Final-Round 68

Bradenton, Fla. — (AP) — Sammy Sneed has another tomato can crammed with folding money to bury in his backyard.

The hillbilly from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., who jests about his cached wealth, carted home $5,500, in a new car which also went with his victory in the $40,000 DeSoto Lakes Open Golf tournament Sunday. First prize was $5,300, and slamming Sammy got another $200 for playing in the 72-hole event.

Edges Barber

In winning the 104th tournament of his long career, Sneed put together rounds of 69-72-67-68 for a 276 total over the 6,902-yard, par 35-36-71 rolling DeSoto Lakes course. He won by a stroke over little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

Barber held a 2-stroke lead at the end of the second and third rounds, and still clung to that margin after nine holes of the final round. Then, while Barber was coming in par figures, Sneed collected three birdies and six pars.

Barber earned $3,400. Dow Finsterwald, who finished third at 278, collected $2,200.

As a Hot Stove League Manager
YOU CALL IT!

Twenty-fourth of a series

BY BEN OLAN

Owner Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs surprised the baseball world last Sept. 28 when he hired Charley Grimm as the team's manager for the third time. Grimm replaced Bob Scheffing, who guided the Cubs to a fifth place tie with the Cincinnati Reds. Although the Cubs had a relatively disappointing season, they had the National league's Most Valuable player in Ernie Banks, who won the award for the second straight year.

In an early season game, the Cubs edged the Philadelphia Phillies with a ninth inning rally. A sound strategic move helped them along. Would you have done the same thing in the following situation? Get it right and you're a big league grandstand manager.

Dick Farrell (R) is pitching for Philadelphia. It's the top of the ninth and the Cubs and Phillies are tied, 3-3, in the Phils' ball yard. Tony Taylor leads off for the Cubs with an infield single. George Altman (L) is the next batter with Lee Walls (R) and Banks (R) scheduled to follow. Altman has one hit in four times at bat in the game. Walls is 3-for-3.

Would you:

- Order Altman to sacrifice?
- Let him swing away?
- Have him try a hit and run?
- Let Taylor try to steal second?

'Rough Fish' Storm Subsides

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The storm over Lake Winnebago fishery management policies of the state, Conservation department has apparently passed over, according to conservation commission developments here.

The commission completed its regular monthly session here without an appearance from the petitioners in the Lake Winnebago region who earlier had demanded a chance to protest formally the state's operation of rough fishing nets in the lake to the alleged detriment of the sports fish and especially wall-eyes.

Meantime, the department received another formal protest. They were led by the Oshkosh-Walker Menzies, an attorney from the Oshkosh-Winnecone area, objecting to the rough fish netting, but the case at a hearing held by a members of the commission Nelson assistant.

made no comment and the document was filed routinely. The conservation department has a 5-year rough fish removal project underway, for the improvement of sports fishing conditions. It has argued for the continuation of the demonstration improvement work before conclusions are reached.

The objectors have claimed that sports fishing has declined and have attributed it to the probability that many of the pike are being caught in the nets and damaged before they are released.

About two months ago a delegation of Winnebago district residents called at the office of Gov. Nelson to make a reported receiving another formal protest. They were led by the Oshkosh-Walker Menzies, an attorney from the Oshkosh-Winnecone area, objecting to the rough fish netting, but the case at a hearing held by a members of the commission Nelson assistant.

Leafs Outlast Wings in Triple Overtime, 5-4

Aging Castoffs Bower and Kelly Shine in Victory

Detroit—(AP)—Johnny Bower and "Red" Kelly, aging cast-offs who didn't wilt in a strenuous overtime struggle, have pulled the Toronto Maple Leafs ahead for the first time in the Stanley cup hockey playoffs.

The two veterans played hero roles Sunday night as the Leafs outlasted the Detroit Red Wings through 103 minutes of hectic action. Kelly who scored twice, set up Frank Mahovlich's winning goal for a 5-4 Toronto triumph at 3:00 of the third sudden-death overtime period.

The surging Leafs, losers in their first playoff start, now own a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 National Hockey league semi-final series.

Bower, who's a year older than his record book age of 35, played the game of his life. He turned aside 62 shots and was peppered constantly in the overtime scrambling.

It was the longest playoff game since Maurice Richard's goal ended a Montreal-Detroit game at 1:09 of the fourth overtime nine years ago for a 3-2 Canadian triumph.

Kelly, who spent nearly 13 seasons with Detroit before being traded to Toronto only last month, scored twice as the Leafs erased a 2-0 Detroit margin with a 4-goal eruption in the second period.

The Leafs and Wings return to action at Detroit Olympia Tuesday and play the fifth game Saturday at Toronto.

The Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks play in the other semi-final series Tuesday at Chicago.

Wiffi Smith Fires 68, Wins Columbus Test

Columbus, Ga.—(AP)—Win some Wiffi Smith, who drives with a brassie and chips with almost anything, staged a final round rally to win the second Columbus Women's Open Golf tournament.

The freckle-faced Miss Smith launched her stretch drive with an eagle-3 on the first hole and sailed in with a 4-under-par 68 Sunday.

Her 298 total nipped Louise Suggs, the third round leader, and Fay Crocker, by one stroke.

The Columbus Country club course's par of 36-36-72 is stretched over 6,557 rolling, testing yards but was no match for the precision play of the 24-year-old Miss Smith, who plays out of St. Clair, Mich.

After shipping in with a 10-iron from 30 yards out for her eagle, Wiffi stroked in birdie putts of 15, 9 and 20 feet and made the turn in 32, a course record for women.

White Sox Hitters Begin Finding Range
St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox, last year's hitless wonders, are beginning to find the range.

The Sox have pounded out 115 hits in their last eight games and have boosted the team average from .183 to .286.

The pennant winning Sox finished sixth in team batting last season with a .250 average.

College Stars Duel Bartlesville In Olympic Trials Opener
Denver—(AP)—The big stars of four Associated Press All-Americans, are matched against Bartlesville's (Okla.) veteran AAU team in one of the four games opening the Olympic trials here Thursday night.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, West Virginia's Jerry West, California's Darrell Imhoff and Tony Jackson of St. John (N. Y.) head the dream cast of the NCAA university all-star team coached by Pete Newell of California.

They'll battle such AAU greats as Red Murrell, (Drake), Burdie Halderson, (Colorado), George Lee (Michigan), Tom Robitaille (Rice), Paul Neumann (Stanford), Les Lane (Oklahoma), Jerry Shipp (Southeast Oklahoma), who form the core of Bartlesville's team, champion of the National Industrial league.

The other three games bring together the rest of the nation's greatest amateur talent, trying out for the 12 berths on the United States Olympic team that plays in Rome late this summer.

Ohio State's NCAA champions, including All-America small college stars from the National Athletic Intercollegiate Assn. (NAIA) coached by Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas.

Peoria, champion of the AAU tournament here last week, meets another collection of NCAA all stars coached by Ard McCutchan of Evansville (Ind.) college, who steered his team to the NCAA Small College division title.

The other opening contest sends Akron (Ohio) Wingfoots, runnerup to Peoria in the AAU, against the Armed Forces All-Stars.

All eight teams in the meet are scheduled to play three games.

Marings and Simonsons Win Curling Club's Mixed Bonspiel

Mr. and Mrs. John Maring (Neenah) and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Simonson (Menasha) won the championship of the annual mixed couples bonspiel at the Appleton Curling club over the weekend.

The Maring rink defeated the Ed Murray rink in Sunday's first-event finals. Other members of the Murray unit were Mrs. Richard Ahrens and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beaman.

The Don Kurey rink won the second event title by beating Joe Schulerberg. Other members of the winning rink were Miss Barbara Cottrell, Mrs. Casey Zdzarski and Bill Hall. The runnerup rink comprised Mr. and Mrs. Schulerberg, E. Schulerberg and Miss Mary Fisch.

In the third event, a rink composed of Mr. and Mrs.

Jim Cutler, Sue Dougherty and B. Waterman defeated the Paul Blackwood group (Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood and Mr. and Mrs. William Herriot).

Horace Taggart skipped his rink to the fourth-event title, defeating Lew Phenner in the finals.

En route to the title match, the Marings beat "Dud" Eis-lore, Bob Wirth and Dick LaBore.

Last year's grand champion, the Robert Winkler rink, lost to Schulerberg in the semi-finals of the second event.

Stocks Move To Downside
Trading Uneven; Airlines Show Moderate Gain

New York—(AP)—The stock market moved unevenly as trading slowed to a moderate pace early this afternoon.

Small gains and losses prevailed among the list of key stocks. A slight tendency toward the downside became apparent after midday.

Moderate gains by airlines, tobacco, utilities and scattered issues helped support the averages. Most major groups were mixed.

The major steels were mostly off by fractions while big three motors were unchanged to a bit lower. Rails, oils and chemicals were irregular.

The fact that living costs seemed headed upward again was an inflationary factor but it was countered by rather drab news including reports that steel production appears headed for a gradual decline.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .61 at 623.08.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 216.00 with the industrials down .10, the rails unchanged and the utilities up .10.

Corporate bonds advanced moderately.

Improved, Lighter Kirkland Has Hit Six Homers Already

Phoenix—(AP)—Right fielder Willie Kirkland may well be the man in the San Francisco Giants camp showing the most improvement over spring training a year ago.

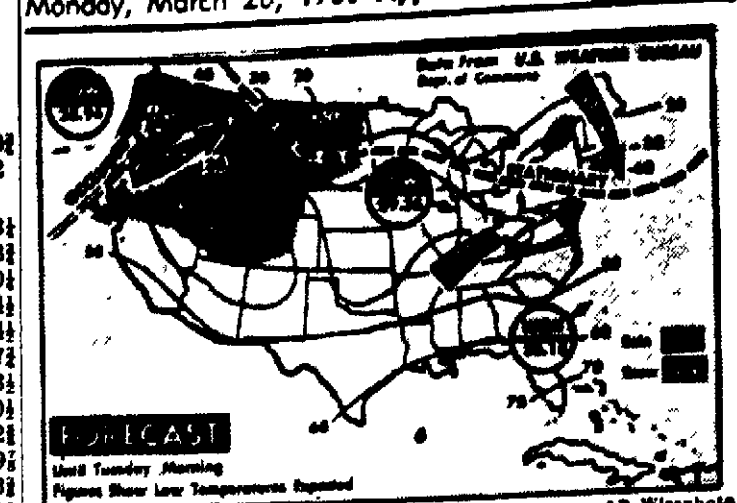

In his first 37 times at bat in spring exhibition games he belted 18 hits including a pair of doubles and six home runs. "I'm just trying to meet the ball," the left handed hitter says. "You don't have to hit nine miles because even if you did, you'd only get four bases."

Manager Bill Rigney ob-served, "Kirkland is seeing from the left side and that the ball just great. And he has worked as hard as anybody in the new Candlestick park camp. When he's not playing, he's at home of the Giants."

Two years ago Kirkland reported to the Giants weighing 205 pounds after getting out of the Army. Last year it was 197, and this time 192.

Last year Kirkland hit 272 with 22 homers and 68 RBIs. Willie probably will bat sixth in the Giants' order behind two other hard-hitting Willies—Mays and McCovey—and big Orlando Cepeda.

San Francisco's attack features the big explosion but from right handed hitters. Kirkland supplies his power from the left side and that could be an advantage for him in the new Candlestick park camp.

It Will Be Warmer in the middle Atlantic states and the central and southern plains tonight while cooler air will move into the north Atlantic states, the Lakes region and most of the country west of the Rockies. Rain and snow is expected in the northern plains and rain is forecast for the northern Rockies, central Plateau and the Pacific coast area from central California northward.

Tardy Spring Brings Glory With Entrance

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The 1960 national encampment of the Girl Scouts of America may be held in a Wisconsin woodland setting next autumn, according to communications to state officials.

Gov. Nelson has invited the organization to hold its national round-up here and the state conservation commission has offered the use of the Black River state forest in western Wisconsin as a site.

The mercury soared high in the Fox Cities and the Wisconsin Michigan Power company observation post reported a maximum temperature of 55. The minimum slipped below freezing at 28 this morning and failed to make more than a 3-degree recovery by 10:30.

But Sunday was a day to remember. The snow cover was the object of another assault and the dingy piles integrated into deliciously running streams in which youngsters hastened the deterioration of shoes.

The mild weather, however, caused more serious melting in other parts of the nation. Floods threatened sections of the midwest today.

No major danger was reported although many small rivers and streams overflowed.

The plains states reported the greatest dangers. In northeast Nebraska, 50 families were evacuated at Lynch and Bristow as the Ponca creek overflowed and motorists traveling between Bismarck and Mandan, N.D., a distance of six miles, had to detour 140 miles after floodgates were closed to keep waters of the Heart river out of Mandan.

FBI Chief Writes Appreciation in Nichols Bank Case
FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover has written Outagamie County Undersheriff Donald J. Heinritz a letter of appreciation for cooperation extended the FBI in capture of three would-be Nichols bank robbers.

The trio, two men and a woman now awaiting trial in Milwaukee, were captured a scant two hours after one of them attempted to rob the bank but was driven off by the assistant cashier.

Hoover says, in part, "The outstanding investigation conducted by you and other members of your department was greatly responsible for bringing this matter to an early and successful conclusion."

Urges Everyone To Get Flu Vaccine

Health Commissioner Says Plan Now for Inoculations This Fall

Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, Appleton health commissioner, is urging everyone to make plans now for inoculations with flu vaccine in September and October. By Feb. 26 the number had dropped to 313, although there was a slight rise for the first week in February.

No Check on Adults
No check of adult cases was made. The health department believes the outbreak was not as serious as the 1957-58 epidemic. Industries made no reports of absenteeism this month-old child, 67-year-old woman and a 63-year-old man, contracted pneumonia out it is especially important while or after having had the flu, he said.

Vaccine is 50 to 70 per cent effective, he noted.

port from the American Medical association says it is believed older persons derive protection from antibodies produced when they suffered the illness previously.

Inoculations are deemed especially advisable for persons with heart disease, pulmonary conditions and diabetes, as well as pregnant women and anyone with a chronic illness.

The vaccine is not advised for those sensitive to eggs. Vaccine cultures are produced in eggs.

Salk at Work
Dr. Jonas Salk, credited with developing polio vaccine, is one of those now trying to find a more potent and generally effective serum to combat influenza.

Scientists are trying to produce a polyvalent vaccine, which will immunize against all strains of flu virus. Until the epidemic of Asian flu in 1957-1958, inoculations protected against one strain. A combination serum was tried at that time, but was not as successful as hoped for, seemingly because of the mutation ability of viruses to develop new strains.

Annual inoculation is recommended by the AMA for all groups.

Some inoculated persons, the AMA reports, develop fever and sore injection sites. A study of 743 persons, ranging from 2 to 58, showed only mild reactions.

New Variations
Influenza will continue to cause epidemics in various degrees as new variations of viruses develop. This is the consensus of an international conference on Asian flu held at the National Institutes of Health, Washington, in February. The Asian strain is expected to continue for several years before being replaced by a new type virus.

A network of laboratories and epidemic surveillance centers has been arranged by the United States Public Health Service to gather data on each outbreak.

Eisenhower Opens 1960 Conference on Youth

Assemblies, Forums, Workshops, Concert Included on 5-Day White House Program

The 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth opened Sunday with President Eisenhower's message to all participants at the University of Maryland, just outside Washington, D. C.

Conference headquarters have been established at the Shoreham hotel in Washington. Wisconsin headquarters will be the Burlington hotel.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will follow the same patterns. Each delegate will attend a theme assembly session from 9 to 10:15 a. m. and from 10:45 to noon will attend a forum based on issues presented at the theme assembly.

be honored at a concert by the National Symphony orchestra, Monday night in Constitution hall.

Delegates also have been invited to the Americana ball Wednesday evening at the Sheraton Park hotel. The Billy Vaughn orchestra will play.

Photos Displayed
“These Are Our Children,” a photographic report on children and youth in the United States in 1960, will be on display in the Shoreham hotel throughout the conference. The 300 photographs depict the theme of the Conference — “opportunities for children and youth to realize their full potential for a creative life in freedom and dignity.”

In its instructions to delegates, the president's national committee says “When we return to our communities to report on the conference to our neighbors and colleagues, the five days of conference meetings will be history. But we hope that it will be the history of a beginning — the beginning of a full and continued participation of all our citizens in concrete programs and dedicated action to enable our children to grow to maturity ready and eager for the responsibilities of world citizenship, sure of values that will sustain them in the years ahead.”

92 Per Cent of County Taxes Paid Treasurer

Outagamie county tax collections so far total $1,526,452, for all towns, villages and cities in the county's 30 tax districts. R. A. Benz, county treasurer, says.

This amount includes $630,000 for January and February in Appleton's share of county taxes. Collections this year ran ahead of last year, Benz said, because there was no heavy snows or bad weather to hold up collections.

Excluding Appleton, where taxpayers may elect to pay on the installment plan, the total taxes collected amount to 92.5 per cent of the amount due, Benz said. Total unpaid and delinquent taxes in the 30 districts amount to $426,049.

Here is a list of the taxes paid and the percentage paid of the total taxes due from each municipality:
